Youth Confesses Killing Of Girl In Portland, Me.

Lillian R. MacDonald, Store Secretary Is Found Burned To Death In Furnace

DISAPPEARED WHILE GIVING OUT PAYROLL

Young Man Arrested And Admits Crime—Denies Having Attacked Girl

(International News Service) PORTLAND, Me., July 14.—Several thousand morbidly curious persons, mostly women, were massed inside and outside of Cumberland county court house today at the arraignment of James M. Mitchell, 21, alleged confessor slayer of Miss Lillian I. MacDonald, 22, stationary store clerk, whose body was stuffed into the firebox of an office building furnace and almost incinerated. He pleaded not guilty.

A detail of 100 police and deputy sheriffs kept the vast crowd in check as Mitchell, known as "The Shiek," walked from police headquarters and from the courthouse to Cumberland county jail.

He was constantly guarded by three police officers because of the fear that he would attempt to take his own life. Mitchell appeared nervous throughout the brief court proceedings.

The charge of "murder" was read. A plea of "not guilty" was immediately entered.

PORTLAND, Me., July 14.—Charged with the murder of Lillian R. MacDonald, 20-year-old secretary, whose body was found burned in a store furnace, James M. Mitchell, 21-year-old clerk in the store, was to appear in court here today. He will be arraigned on a first degree murder charge.

County authorities claimed Young Mitchell had admitted killing the girl.

Relief to the parched lawns and gardens came in the form of rain last night. Crops in the country were in such a state that a few more days of dry weather would have literally burnt them up. Sometimes farmers pray for a dry spell, but this time it was the reverse. Pasture streams had been dry for several weeks.

Senator Schall Defends Mooney Asks For Probe

Blind Senator From Minnesota Would Have Federal Government Aid Mooney

SUGGESTS RIGID PROBE BE HELD

Assails Governor Young Of California For Refusing Pardon To Famous Prisoner

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, July 14.—Complete investigation of the San Francisco preparedness parade outrage of 1916 was proposed today by Senator Thomas Schall (R) of Minnesota as a part of a nationwide campaign in behalf of Thomas J. Mooney and Warren K. Billings, sentenced to prison for the bombing.

Assailing Governor C. C. Young of California for his refusal to pardon Mooney and Billings, the blind senator urged friends of the two labor leaders to keep up the fight until the entire country is aroused.

Schall said there is a precedent for federal action in the investigation ordered by the late President Wilson and the fact that the outrage is linked with investigations of activities of German agents in California.

Three lines of action were suggested by Schall:
Department of Justice investigation, which would give friends of Mooney in Congress a chance to throw their influence behind him, making (Continued On Page Two)

Rome Denies Report From Budapest That Mussolini Undergoes Stomach Operation

(International News Service) BUDAPEST, July 14.—Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy underwent a serious stomach operation at Bologna last week, it was reported here today by the newspaper Ajsas.

The surgery was performed by Professor Nigroselli, a former violent anti-Fascist, assisted by two university professors, according to the information. The operation was performed secretly in order not to cause undue alarm in Italy.

Several weeks ago reports were current that "Il Duce" was considering undergoing an operation to alleviate stomach trouble, but the exact nature of his ailment was not learned.

GENEVA, July 14.—Although Rome officially denied that Premier Mussolini had gone under the surgeon's knife, travelers from Italy affirmed today that the premier's activities in the past few days remained veiled in strictest secrecy, which gave weight to his reported absence from the capital. He has not made a public appearance in the past week.

Hope To Maintain Senate Quorum In Fight For Treaty

Senate's Battle For Naval Treaty Ratification Enters Second Week

OPPOSITION MAY OUTLAST QUORUM

Senator Reed Of Pennsylvania Will Take Up Defense Of Pact

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON International News Service Staff Correspondent WASHINGTON, July 14.—The Senate's battle over the London naval limitation treaty entered its second week today with prospects of its ratification depending chiefly on the administration's ability to maintain the constitutional quorum necessary for the legal transaction of business in the upper branch of Congress.

Political campaigns, business affairs at home and vacation retreats furnished an attractive lure to a Senate not overly impressed with the necessity for ratifying the treaty this summer. There were numerous observers who believe the opposition to the treaty would outlast the quorum, which was present all last week, and that administration leaders would be forced to permit an adjournment with postponement of action on the treaty until the next regular session in December.

Hardly Have Quorum

During the first week, the treaty opposition helped the administration to maintain a quorum. While the congressional record reported as many as 61 senators present, the largest number present at any one time was 57, with the daily sessions starting three different times with only the necessary 49 present. In each instance from ten to fifteen treaty opponents were numbered among those present. If the opposition should suddenly decide to abandon the session (Continued On Page Two)

London Skeptical Over Message Of Late Conan Doyle

"Medium" At Memorial Service Says She Talked To Late Sir Canon Doyle

(International News Service) LONDON, July 14.—London remained skeptical today over the outcome of the memorial service for Sir Arthur Conan Doyle at Royal Albert hall, when the departed scientist and psychic student was claimed to have been "seen" and "heard".

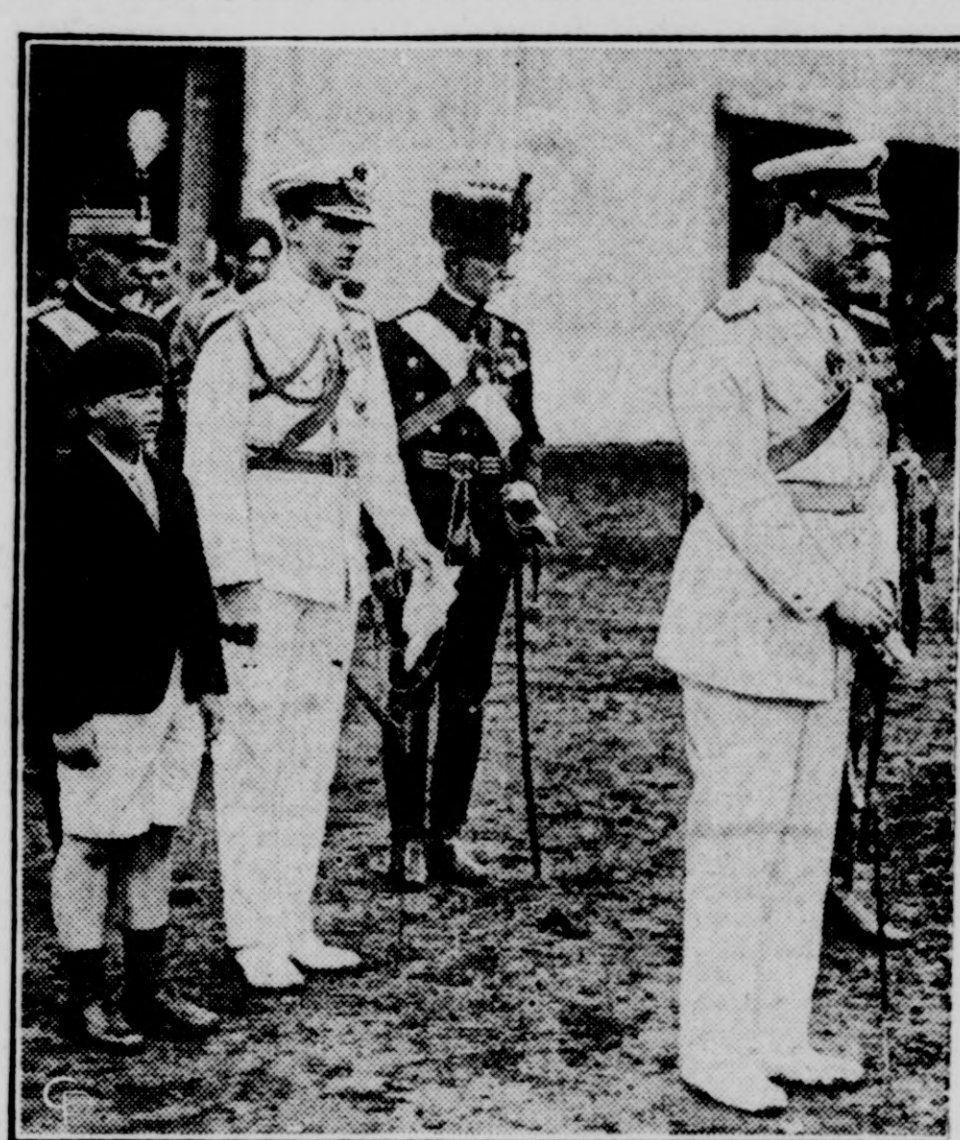

Approximately 8,000 curious thronged the place last night in the hope of glimpsing something from beyond the grave.
On the platform Lady Conan Doyle and her elder son, Dennis, faced the medium, Mrs. Estelle Roberts. The latter suddenly pointed to an empty chair and declared that the late Sir Arthur was sitting there, attired in evening dress.

"He's here," she announced dramatically. A moment later she whispered a purported message from the spirit of Lady Doyle. The message was not given out.
It had previously been announced that Sir Arthur's first "message" would be given to the world at the memorial service.

City Line Location Mystery Holds Up Mahoning Bridge

County Commissioners Agreed That Structure Should Be Replaced

Question Arises Whether Bridge Is State Or Local Structure

"We agree that the bridge over the Mahoning River at Willow Grove should be replaced, but we do not believe the county should pay for it," was the statement of the county commissioners of this county, T. J. McCullough, P. O. Elder and C. C. Boyd, today.

Speaking jointly of the bridge and the reason for the delay, they said, "first of all, the bridge is safe for traffic. We have had the report of two engineers on it and that report is that the bridge is safe for travel. It is true that the planking is loose but this could be remedied by putting on floor plates."

"Where Is The Line?"
The difficulty over the payment of the bridge arises out of the location of the line of the city of New Castle. While many people do not know it, the city line runs down as far as the bridge. The state highway department insists that the line runs out to the center of the river, which would put half of the river in the city of New Castle. Under the law of 1929 bridges in cities of the third class, or partly in them, are not to be paid for by the state.

"It is our opinion that the city line merely runs to the edge of the river but nobody seems to be able to give us the definite location of the line. Because of this dispute we are willing to pay for half the bridge if the state will pay for the other half. This would mean the relocation of the south abutment, putting the bridge at an angle which would remove the two right angle entrances to the present bridge."

"To conclude," said the county commissioners, "we agree that a bridge is needed there, but if the county builds it, the cost would be less than $100,000.00. We are endeavoring to get the matter adjusted satisfactorily, and when it is, the bridge should be built."

Car Plunges Over Cliff

Woman Is Killed In Wild Plunge Of Car At Brady's Bend

MACHINE DROPS SOME 300 FEET

(International News Service) EAST BRADY, Pa., July 14.—Mrs. William Weisgerber, 50, is dead, and her husband and two other persons are in the East Brady hospital today following a wild automobile plunge over a precipice at the "narrow" observation tower yesterday.

Four passengers were in the automobile when it suddenly hurtled over the edge of the cliff. Mrs. Weisgerber was dead when taken from the wreckage. Her husband and the couple's daughter and son, Mrs. Olive Rosamyer and William G. Weisgerber were seriously but not fatally injured.

According to witnesses, the family group had parked their car near the tower to view the panorama presented by the Brady's Bend sweep of the Allegheny river. As they were about to drive away, the machine lurched backward, gathering momentum rapidly and in instant later shot past the observation tower and over the cliff.

The car somersaulted over and over during its wild descent down the 300 foot drop and was practically demolished. All of those in the car were residents of West Bridgewater.

Council today accepted the recommendation of Fire Chief Charles Lynn and authorized the city clerk to take bids for the purchase of 1,250 feet of new fire hose. The fire chief reported that some departments do not have a complete change.

Five long weeks they have been away, five weeks that have dragged as they went, but now they are back with their noises and their smiles, after a vacation spent. They rustled around in the fields on the farm, they helped feed the hens, and called cows to their lunch, and bustled themselves every day. Their faces are brown and their cheeks are filled out, and they look just the picture of health, and if sunshine is money these two little lads, have come back two young scions of wealth. Five weeks they've been gone, it seems longer than that, but they're back looking chipper and fine, and the house is filled up with their chatter again, the weather is cool, seventy nine.

Largest Family At Akron
Division Outing

For having the largest family present at the annual outing of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad's Akron division at Chippewa Lake, Ohio, Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Natale, of 514 North Cedar street were the recipients of an attractive prize. Nine of the Natale children were in attendance.

An official count revealed that 1,200 New Castle district employees took part, with the total attendance around 6,000. Cleveland, Akron and other large cities on the division sent immense delegations.

An afternoon program of sports and races, arranged by G. R. Lytell, terminal agent of Cleveland, marked the day. Dancing and other side entertainment was provided. A list of the different winners of races was being awaited by New Castle employees today. It will probably reach here this afternoon.

Employees from here were taken to and from the outing aboard a special train.

The Fee property, considered a menace, in Bridge street, cannot be removed at present as it is owned by Jack and Jim and the city only notified Jim. It is reported, however, that Jack is willing to act favorably on the request of the city council.

Release From Jail

Petition for a parole was presented to court this morning by Mrs. Katherine Domin of North Beaver township, who was sentenced to six months in jail and $100 fine in a liquor case. Sentence was to date from May 22. In her petition Mrs. Domin says that she has six children at home who are in need of her attention, as nearly all of them are small. She believes that if she were released to look after her little ones and the farm, that the ends of justice would be met. Hearing on the petition was set for July 28.

Petition for parole from the Allegheny county workhouse was presented by William Snisky, alias John Johnson, who was sentenced on March 1 to pay $300 and costs and to undergo imprisonment for one year on a liquor charge. Petitioner says that he is a resident of Cleveland, O., where he has a wife and six children. He claims that his family is in destitute circumstances, and that if he can be discharged he will be able to care for them. He will be given a hearing on July 28.

Mussolini And Kemal.
 Doyle Came Back.
 A New Jersey Ghost.
 Interesting Marriage.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
 (Copyright, 1930, King Features
 Syn., Inc.)

Mussolini interests Europe, and causes excitement in France, proposing an alliance with Germany. France understands that the suggestion calls for a military alliance, or, at least, an agreement that Germany will remain neutral in case of an Italian-French war.

Mussolini ought to know what such an alliance really means when war really starts. In 1914, Italy had an alliance with Germany and the Kaiser was foolish enough to think it would stand up. It did not.

When Kemal Pasha, boss of Turkey, makes war, HE MAKES WAR. You remember that Mussolini threatened him, and Kemal replied: "If you send Italian soldiers against me, the difficulty will be to find room to bury the number that I shall kill."

A dispatch from Turkey tells how Kemal trapped 1,000 rebellious Kurds in the Zeylan River valley, and killed every one, granting no quarter. That sounds like old days when Mohammed himself was leader, and later when western Europe whispered in awe the name of "the grand Turk."

The spirit of Conan Doyle has been obliged by attending a seance of spiritualists. He came a long way from London, forgetting, perhaps, to allow for the eastward movement of the earth. He landed in the Bronx in upper New York City, and remarked: "I am Conan Doyle, and I am glad to be here." There he asked for pencil and paper and wrote a telephone number. More important messages probably will come later, more appropriately located.

West Long Branch, N. J., thinks it has a ghost. It was first seen last Sunday night by a party of young people in an automobile. They threw stones at the white figure and swear that it stood 10 feet high.

Night before last, at midnight 3,000 people waited in a graveyard, borrowing courage from each other. Twice previously the ghost had rushed and scattered small groups of watchers.

On Wednesday of the 3,000, only half a dozen women saw the spook. Two thousand nine hundred and ninety-four, including the police, saw nothing. That's about the average for ghosts, in real tests.

It is announced that Princess Juliana, only child of Queen Wilhelmina of Holland, and destined to be queen in her turn, will marry Prince Sigvard, son of the Swedish crown prince, and grandson of the Duke of Connaught.

How quickly human conditions and feelings change. Prince Sigvard is the descendant of Bernadotte, one of Napoleon's marshals, who was the first Swedish king of his line. And Bernadotte was the son of a little French lawyer, and, as Mr. Ripley tells you, Bernadotte had tattooed on his arm the slogan of the revolution, "Death to kings."

The administration has decided not to let the nation know what secret negotiations preceded the treaty it is asked to ratify. The normal majority of rubber stamp senators will sign with eyes shut, if they must.

Hiram Johnson and a few others take the responsibility of senators, in connection with treaties, seriously. The others take that part of the constitution no more seriously than they do the 18th amendment.

If the senate does sign with its eyes shut and its brain uninformed, it will indicate that, like the British House of Lords, our senate is becoming more or less of a vermin appendix, unnecessary and sometimes dangerous.

Miss Martha L. Connolly, lady lawyer, replying to Mrs. Thomas A. Edison's statement that woman should remain in the home and out of business asks: "The home, where is that?"

Woman has been kicked out of the home, according to Miss Connolly, and finds it hard to succeed because "chivalry has fallen into the ash-can."

"When you see a woman working," says Lawyer Connolly, "some man has fallen down on the job of providing for her support."

Schopenhauer said all women were in league to compel every man to support some one woman all her life, and marriage was part of that conspiracy. That, he said, was why women never forgave the woman whose loose life breaks up the plan.

Business seems to be interfering with it, as immorality once did.

HIGH PAY FOR FILM FREAKS
 In earning capacity, the average man had better be a white ring-tail monkey or a tame alligator or a leopard or a big boa constrictor. A boa constrictor in a moving picture show frequently earns $100 a day. A white ring-tail monkey may earn as much as $14.60 a year. And spotted leopards trained to act are worth at least $50 per day.

Schemes To Aid Employment Are Discussed By The Nation

Governor Roosevelt Of New York, And General Electric Company Offer Schemes Which Are Appraised, And President Reports On Emergency Measures

Suggested methods for overcoming unemployment, which have been placed before the country, are being subjected to varying degrees of criticism. Governor Roosevelt's speech before the Conference of Governors in favor of the insurance method, and the experiment announced by the General Electric Company, which promises relief through joint contributions of employer and employees, are debated. President Hoover's report on the results of emergency measures dealing with a construction program, is also a subject of comment.

"Economic necessity," as emphasized in the Roosevelt address before the Governors is considered by the HARRISBURG TELEGRAPH, with the statement: "Roosevelt is voicing in politics what the General Electric is in industry. Those slow to endorse progressive measures might give thought to these two incidents. Unquestionably, they are forerunners of issues which the country will have to face and to which there is only one answer. It is apparent that we are definitely entered upon a period in which humanitarian legislation and policies will become increasingly subjects for popular discussion."

"Shorter working days and shorter weeks, damping up of work to tide over periods of depression—such plans," according to the ASHEVILLE TIMES, "may help, but Governor Roosevelt seems to be justified, from all past experience in contending that they will not eliminate unemployment." The Times is convinced that "unemployment insurance, including old-age security, qualified as the theory is in the New York Governor's address, must be accepted as a policy today." And the SAN BERNARDINO SUN declares: "There is no disguising the fact that unemployment insurance, even though it might approach the dole system, would have very considerable support. Indigent aid for the aged has become popular. Many want it too are not entitled to it, because they have other means of support."

"Right now, with several millions of unemployed men," thinks the ST. LOUIS TIMES, "it is easy to impress the need for insuring the jobs, but in the long run the most important of the two phases discussed by the New York Governor is that of old-age security." "Agitation of the question is a service to the American people. There was a time, not long ago, when such insurance was regarded as socialistic, but those who branded it that way have changed their opinion and are now praying for it. The present period of unemployment has done much to change views of citizens who previously had been hostile to the theory of guaranteeing any one a job."

The General Electric plan is called by the CHICAGO DAILY TRIBUNE "a different solution of the problem, and one which we believe accomplishes all that might be expected of state insurance without many of its disadvantages." Describing the corporation's purpose that paper states: "An insurance fund will be set up when requested by 60 per cent of the employees in any branch. The employee, when working half time or more, agrees to pay into the fund one per cent of his earnings over a period of three years. The company will match that contribution, dollar for dollar, and in addition guarantees interest of five per cent to the fund. If the employee is laid off temporarily, he will receive half of his wages, but not more than $20 a week for 10 weeks. Special provisions cover periods of abnormal and prolonged unemployment. The plan presumes, as it well may, that periods of industrial depression in the United States and in the electrical industry are not likely to be prolonged. It assumes, also, that insofar as its resources permit, management is ready and bound to stabilize employment conditions."

"This plan is supposed to act both for the prevention and cure of unemployment," says the JACKSON CITIZEN PATRIOT, observing that "when business is on the increase, it is stipulated that the company shall expand its working force as slowly as possible, and shall postpone plant renewals and maintenance activities as far as possible."

"The details of this arrangement," suggests the MILWAUKEE JOURNAL-NAL, "are less important than the fact that another large American industrial organization attempts to meet its unemployment problem. Until this problem is solved, industry will not fully have met its responsibilities." As one company after another makes its plans, industry as a whole will learn how best to keep the greatest number of its regular employees steadily at work during their productive lives. The public's immediate concern should be to encourage those industries that sincerely attempt something in this direction."

Statutes covering public construction activities for the first half of this year, as presented by Mr. Hoover in his address by radio to the conference of Governors, are a subject of some comment. Under the title, "A Partial Victory for Unemployment," the HOUSTON CHRONICLE says: "Announcement that $200,000,000 more went into public construction activities in the United States in the first six months of 1930 than in the record year 1929 gives evidence of a sane economic attempt to combat business depression." "Cooperation of the States with the Federal government has made this possible, and that is especially encouraging, because it demonstrates that our government officials have come to a general agreement as to what steps governmental agencies can wisely take in such circumstances. Another announcement that should add to confidence in the future is that from the Census Bureau, stating that a one-fourth count of the nation shows but 500,000 persons unemployed. That would mean that the entire count should show about 2,000,000, hardly half what many of our pessimists were estimating."

The showing has great significance," declares the SAN JOSE MERCURY-HERALD, "because it is the result of a voluntary response of public authorities after the stock panic to the President's appeal to expand public construction, as a means to relieve unemployment and increase consumption." "To find an industrial remedy for depressions and unemployment, the goal the President set out to attain. He called for public and private cooperation to expand employment after the stock panic, an application of his theory, and substantial results gained prove."

THE FORT WAYNE NEWS-STAR is skeptical of results under the insurance plan and makes the comment: "At last, such a system presents a kind of patchwork makeshift—a treatment of symptoms and effects without scientific regard to underlying causes." That paper holds that "any unemployment insurance worthy of the name and endowed with really salutary potentialities should include some means of protection against overproduction."

CHURCH AND STATE.
 The Protestant Church seems bent upon mixing the affairs of Church and State in the constitution to the contrary, notwithstanding.

Resolutions pledging members of the clergy to work for a more moral Los Angeles, even to the extent of investigating motion-picture actors and actresses, were adopted by the Ministerial Association, at a June meeting held in the First Methodist Church.

While no particular figure of the screen was mentioned in the resolution, the ministers present, representing all the Protestant denominations, empowered the resolutions committee to investigate film celebrities with a view to punishing those theaters showing cinema dramas started to question.

In view of the publicity recently given a certain motion-picture actress it is time the churches notify Will Hays that it will be well for him not only to investigate the character of motion-picture dramas, but also of actors and actresses," said Rev. David Morgan.

Another resolution pledges the ministers to become more active in the attempt to rid Los Angeles of obscene literature. The resolution followed an address by City Prosecutor Nix, who said he intends to ask Congress to pass a bill which will make it impossible to ship indecent literature from one part of the country to another. Nix said the new social-survey committee has found that twenty tons of indecent literature are shipped into Los Angeles every month and that 98 per cent of those books and magazines are bought by high-school students.

The ministers also adopted a resolution calling on Congress to abandon the proposed $1,000,000,000 navy building program.

Bo Broadway

by JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

By Central Press
NEW YORK, July 14.—Following a raid on his shoe shop, by thieves, the proprietor of a Bootery has hung a sign in his window reading:
"Burglars come here for good shoes, why not you?"

POVERTY.

A New York broker who told creditors, when he had dissipated their $4,000,000, that he was broke, lives in a large suite in one of the most expensive hotels in town, has a Japanese valet and a Rolls Royce, with a liveried chauffeur.

"It's cheaper for me to live where I do now than at the Mills Hotel," the broker is quoted as saying. "If I had a room at the Mills I'd have to pay cash. It doesn't cost me a cent here. I was invited by the management to take a suite and have my meals. The same thing applies to the limousine. It's cheaper for me to ride downtown in a Rolls Royce than in the subway. The subway ride would cost me a nickel. The car is supplied, without expense, by an agency with which I formerly did a great deal of business."

And then there's another side to it. Some men are so constituted that when they get themselves into a financial jam, they need the fragrance of varnished elegance to keep up their morale.

New York is positively lousy with that type.

SOCIETY NOTE.

Rene Cartier, dainty and petite, model, accused Midge Miller, gifted wife of Will Morrissey, Broadway's beloved clown, of putting a pawn on her peeper, in one of Mazda Lane's swell liver and onion palaces.

"Nothin' come of it."

NOT AT ALL.

Says Burns Mantle, Tabloid Drammer Drammer:
"A strange, strange man, this Earl Carroll. No man has been through more in the theatre and, in many ways, no man has profited less."

A lot o' bubble an' squeak, old dear.

Earl of the Bath isn't a "strange, strange man," any more than is George White, or other lads along The Lane, who profit by what is known as "The Torso Trade."

CHARITY.

New York's army of Tin Cup Parasites wring ten million bucks a year from the pockets of leaky and lachrymose citizens.
"In my twenty years' experience with street beggars," says an officer of the Bureau of Charities, "I have yet to encounter a deserving case. The pedestrian who drops a coin into a beggar's lap, instead of feeling a glow of satisfaction, should experience a sense of shame."

STILL IN BUSINESS.

Some years ago, on 42nd Street, I donated four bits to a twisted gent who said he was trying to procure a wheel-chair. I encountered him the other day, downtown farther, still collecting for the same impatience objective.

He probably got caught in the market crash, poor devil!

CACKLE.

Said a Park Avenue Mama to her sassy daughter:
"And please try to remember, Eloise, that I am your mother."
"Gawdied, old thing," replied Dottie, "but why keep swanking about it?"

ADD RAIDS.

Every window on the Carlisle street side of Public School No. 29, Carlisle and Washington streets, was broken the other day. Beneath the windows was a chalked signature:
"Carlisle Indians."

Of the Indians, however, there was not a trace. Only the clang of a riveting machine disturbed the quiet of the thoroughfare.

The Indians, with the object of their raid accomplished, were extremely elsewhere.

TACTFUL.

The Duchess was interrupting me as I was writing the other night, reading excerpts from her favorite evening newspaper.

"I see here," she said, nibbling a wafer off a piece of fudge, "that Gamaliel Bradford reads a detective story every night, half an hour, beginning on the hour, and closing the book the very second the half hour 'cuckoos.'"

"Do you know who Gamaliel Bradford is?" I required.

"Why," said the Duchess, nibbling a corner off her piece of fudge, "he's 'Of Man Adam an His Chillun'."

"No," said I, "that was Roark Bradford."

"My error," murmured the Duchess, resuming her paper.

And being handicapped by the training of a gentleman, I left the matter drop.

Three Youths Are Held For Larceny

Harlansburg Boys Enter Pleas Of Guilty In Butler Court

BUTLER, Pa., July 14.—After having entered pleas of guilty to charges of larceny in connection with the theft by them of a motor truck belonging to Walter P. Elder of Slippery Rock, three boys of Harlansburg, Lawrence county, were remanded to jail by Judge James O. Campbell. The youths were arrested by the state police last June 13.

They are Everett McCracken, aged 17, Raymond McFarland, aged 16, and Paul McConnell, aged 15.

The trio were driving to Slippery Rock, when they discovered a flat which they were riding. Observing a truck with the key inserted, they took it about ten miles from Slippery Rock in the direction of New Castle, according to District Attorney Charles H. Miller. Then they removed three tires from the truck and abandoned the vehicle after placing one of the tires on their automobile and hiding the others in the woods. The truck was valued at $250.

All of the boys were committed to the Butler county jail last June 14, but immediately obtained bail. Fathers of each of the defendants told Judge Campbell they had never experienced any trouble with their sons before.

Girl's Mother Traps Suspect In Runaway

FRANKLIN, Pa., July 14.—Sought for a week as the man who induced 15-year-old Frances Heisel, of Rocky Grove, to run off "on a trip to California," Tom Clark, alias Tom Sweeney, 24, who gave a Detroit address, was lodged in Venango County jail today.

He was caught by a ruse when he telephoned the Heisel home, and the girl's mother, imitating the voice of her daughter, arranged a "date" with him.

Peter's Adventures

WHY FLY MADE A FACE

Peter looked long at Fly and remembered something.
"Say, what was that long, sharp-pointed thing you stuck out at me when you came up? Your tongue?"
"No, stupid one, that was my lip."
"Shame on you for making faces at a stranger," Peter felt like teasing Fly a little. But Fly, good-natured by this time, didn't care.

"I wasn't making faces at you," contradicted the fellow. "If you must know the whole truth, I wasn't paying much attention to you at first sight. Right beside you on a leaf was a drop of sweet juice—I spied it glistening in the sunlight—how it got there I don't know but it looked good and it smelled good, so I stuck out my lip and lapped it up. It tasted good."

"Where is your lip now?" demanded Peter curiously. "It was so long I don't see how you manage to keep it out of sight."
"Oh, I just roll it up," buzzed Fly. "Like an elephant's trunk?" asked Peter, but Fly didn't hear him. That hungry insect had caught sight of a ripe, red raspberry some bird had dropped from his beak.

"Yum, yum, buzzed he. 'Here's a meal fit for a king.' Without more ado, Fly began his feast. Slowly he ran along on his flat plate at his tip, and two pointed spears. Fly laid this plate upon the berry and drove the sharp spears into the ripe, red fruit. Soon, from the not very polite noise Fly was making, Peter knew that fellow was sucking up the juice."

Famous Old Law Firm Dissolved

(International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, July 14.—Death dissolved the oldest law firm in San Francisco in which the original partners were practicing.

W. T. Hess, 62, of Harris and Hess, died while his partner, Isadore Harris was appearing in Supreme Court on his last case before ascending the Municipal bench.

Unknown to Harris, death already had accomplished the dissolution at the Hess home.

Instant Death In Auto Crash

WASHINGTON, Pa., July 14.—William F. Carrick, 24, shop foreman for the Colonial Motors company here, met instant death when his back was broken as the car he was driving overturned at East Springfield, O.

Carrick was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Carrick of Glendale. He was married and leaves his wife and one small son. He had been working in Washington for the past five years.

Billie McKee, 26, and Ike Young, 23, both of this city, were riding with Carrick at the time. McKee is at his home here seriously injured. Young was not badly hurt.

What a world! Diplomats are the only people who could outtalk a traffic cop, and they are immune to traffic laws.

Ends Piles Quick

Without Salves or Cutting

Piles are caused by congestion of blood in the lower bowel. Only an internal medicine can remove the cause. That's why salves and cutting fail. HEM-ROID, the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonard, removes this congestion and strengthens the affected parts.

HEM-ROID is now sold by druggists everywhere and has such a wonderful record of success even in chronic and stubborn cases that McKee's or Eckerd's invites every Pile sufferer to try HEM-ROID and guarantees money back if it does not end all Pile misery.

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., July 14.—"Hard times" are "boom times" for freshman class applications at the Pennsylvania State college.

Business depressions apparently have no ill effect upon those seeking an education at the state's institution of higher learning. Applications for admission to the next freshman class have been pouring in upon Registrar William S. Hoffman in as large numbers as in any of the past five or six years.

"It appears incredible in the face of the present economic conditions that a record number of young men and women should find themselves able to start to college," Mr. Hoffman said today, "but that is what is happening this summer at Penn State. It has been true in every period of

Police Chief Warns Of Counterfeit Bills

Counterfeit twenty dollar bills bearing the picture of President Andrew Jackson, and rather cleverly designed and finished are circulating to a considerable extent here and Chief of Police C. C. Horner issued a warning this morning to merchants and the people of the city generally to examine carefully, all twenty dollar bills that may be presented.

First of these counterfeit bills brought to the attention of the police was that received by Greyson Coates of the seventh ward the last of the week.

Saturday, three more of the bills were passed in the South Side district, being taken in through regular business channels by the Union Meat Market, Philip Winnick and the Joe Leaf Restaurant, all on Long avenue.

The fact that the bills were counterfeit was discovered today by the Union National Bank, when presented there for deposit by the business houses mentioned.

Detective C. G. Logan and Officer Thomas Lynch were at once detailed to investigate and the matter was reported to the Federal authorities in Pittsburgh, who stated that these counterfeit bills were being passed throughout this section. Youngstown also reports the passing of the same type in this city.

The Federal authorities are working on the case in an effort to determine the source of supply.

One of the means of detecting the twenty dollar counterfeits is the fact that the design on the rear of the bill is not inked to the usual depth of green color that prevails on the good bills. The bills also lack the silk thread found in good bills.

It would be wise, according to Chief Horner for all persons having such bills presented to them to have them passed on by their banks before accepting them.

John MacDonald Given Release From Maryland

Man Who Says He Perjured Self
Against Mooney Will Go
Back To California

(International News Service)
BALTIMORE, Md., July 14—John MacDonald, the itinerant restaurant worker whose testimony in 1916 sent Tom Mooney and Warren K. Billings to prison for life in the San Francisco preparedness day bomb case, was released from custody of Maryland authorities today.

MacDonald, who has recanted his testimony insofar as it relates to Mooney, and admitted he perjured himself, will be taken back to California to tell his story.

State's attorney Herbert O'Connor recommended release of MacDonald, and assured Judge Dawkins in city court that the man's attorney would take him to California.

Dawkins said the Baltimore court had done its part in the matter of aiding justice, and that it had no concern with what happened to MacDonald after his release, in light of the fact that Gov. Young wired O'Connor the state had no claims on him.

New Hampshire Trys Sheep Raising

(International News Service)
CENTER SANDWICH, N. H., July 14—An experiment in sheep raising that is expected to determine for farmers whether or not the industry can be profitably brought to New Hampshire hill farm will soon be started by Harold Coolidge of this town.

Coolidge has purchased a carload of sheared range sheep from the Rocky Mountain section and under the direction of an experienced shepherd will roam the Coolidge estate pasture of more than 100 acres.

If the trial flock proves profitable, sheep raising on a real commercial scale will be undertaken.

The first question to decide is whether a pension represents damages or charity or gratitude.

"Lindy And Anne" Aided Morrow In Election, Claim

Methodist Board Of Temperance Believes Lindbergh And Anne Put Morrow Over

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, July 14—It was the popularity of "Lindy and Anne" that gave Dwight W. Morrow his overwhelming victory in the New Jersey senatorial primary, rather than the popularity of the wet cause for which Morrow stood—at least, that is according to the Methodist Board of Temperance, Prohibition and public morals.

In a statement "warning" the Republican party against nominating Ambassador Morrow for the presidency in 1932, the board said:

"If he is nominated the probability is that he will suffer overwhelming defeat, a prophecy that is reasonable safe in spite of his heavy victory in the wet state of New Jersey."

"There is more than a little reason to suspect that half of those constituting his majority were, in fact, voting for Lindy, and the other half for Anne."

The statement asserted further that in 1928 "the South put principal above party" in breaking away from Al Smith, and if the Republicans nominate Mr. Morrow the Republicans of the North will demonstrate the same thing."

Umbrella Star Dome Makes Astronomy Easy

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, July 14—A new invention for amateur astronomers is said to make self-instruction in the secrets of the skies easy and absorbing. It is a home-made planetarium, which reproduces in miniature the dome of the heavens, showing the planets and constellations mapped out in their proper positions.

The unique contrivance Popular Science Monthly reports, was constructed by a New York City inventor from simple frame parts of metal and wood, while an old umbrella hood served for a dome. It rests on wheels so that it can be moved about without difficulty.

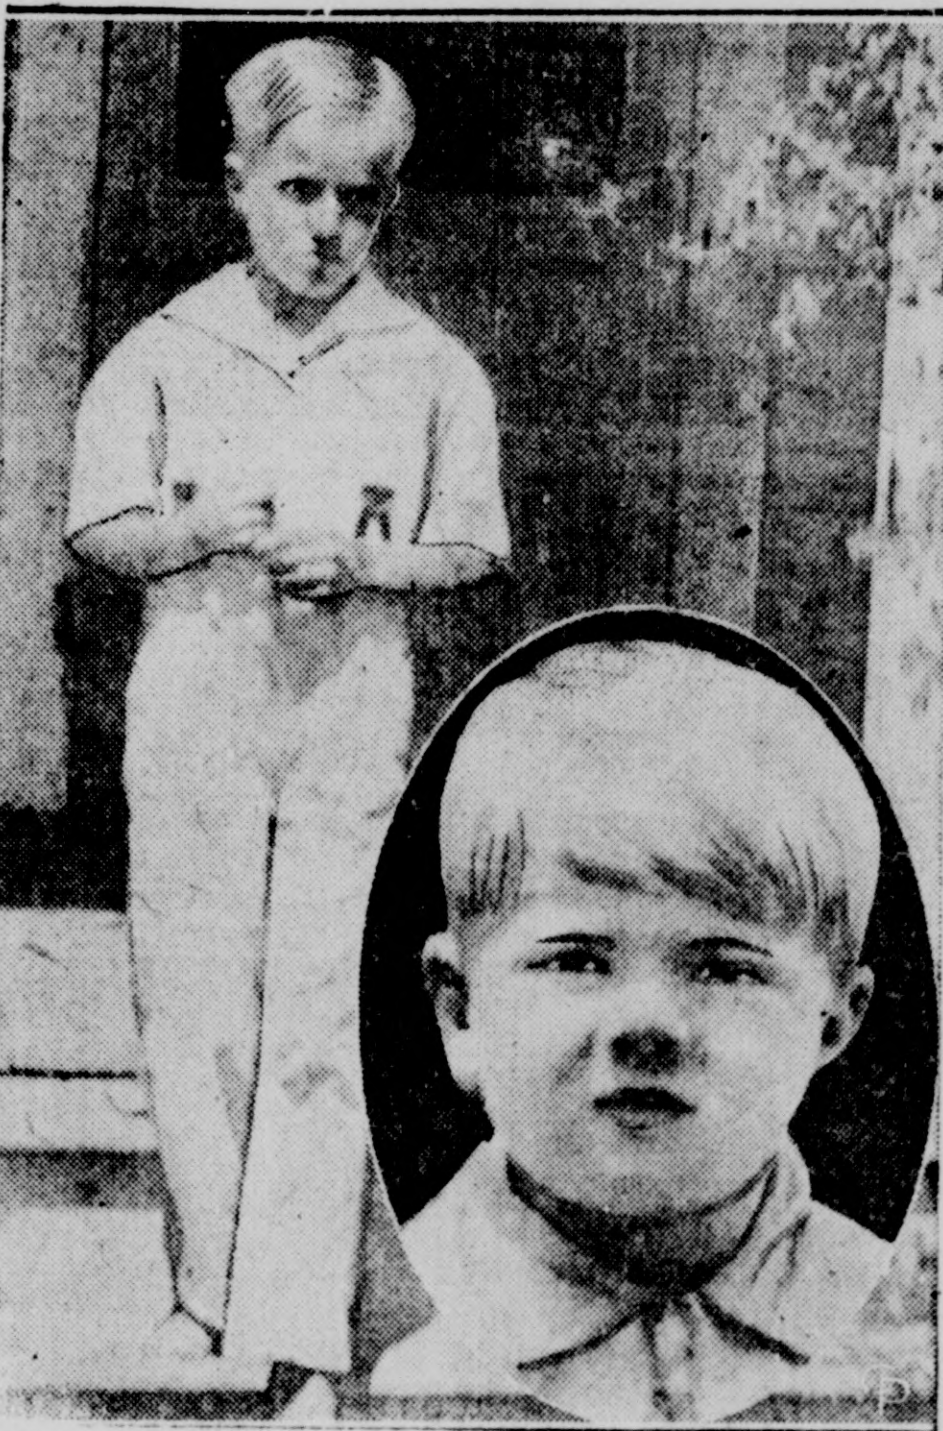

Attached to the frame is a series of bar magnets placed in line with the wooden strut which supports the umbrella dome. If the device is held off the ground by a string, these magnets swing the frame so that the center point of the dome points directly at the North Star. The astronomer in this way obtains his bearings, and is ready to study the stars by verifying their positions according to the carefully labelled map on the inner surface of the umbrella dome.

Summer Days At Will With Weather Maker

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, July 14—Summer days, autumn nights, or almost any seasonal atmosphere may now be created in the home with all the ease of turning on the radio. This is made possible by the recent invention of a home-made "weather" machine.

The apparatus can either warm or cool the air in the house, give it a thorough washing, or subject it to a drying process. It heats homes with gas fuel. If the housewife wants the effect of balmy zephyrs in her living room, she has merely to regulate the automatic weather man in her cellar.

STUDY BOY WHO DROWNED CHILD

Until he outgrows his "abnormal tendencies," juvenile officers of Compton Cal. hope to have the court place seven-year-old LaVerne McDonald in a home or reformatory. He is in the technical custody of the police since he disclosed to them that he killed James Ellis, three, by holding the little boy's head under water until he drowned "to find out if he could see under water." La Verne is said to have lashed another child severely last December, and does not understand the seriousness of his deed. LaVerne McDonald, above; James Ellis, inset.

Watchman Mistakes Police For
Thugs And Starts Display
Of Gun Discharging

(International News Service)
NEWARK, N. J., July 14—It took 20 policemen and detectives, three tear gas bombs and a riot gun to convince a newly employed and bewildered watchman today that it was the arm of the law, and not the clutching fingers of the underworld, that demanded admittance to the construction company yard he guarded.

Two of the policemen were wounded, and the watchman, Amelio Spagnuolo, 56, was arrested after the fight and charged with assault and battery.

Persons living near the yard reported to police they had heard shots and feared a holdup was in progress. When the patrolmen arrived, Spagnuolo fired through the gate at them with a double barrel shotgun, the bullets wounding the policemen in the face, arms and legs. When reserves arrived with a riot gun and tear gas bombs, the watchman was subdued.

Scouts Are Home From Camp Macy

Three Girl Scout Leaders And
First Class Scout Spend
Past Three Weeks In Training

Miss Nance Pugh, Girl Scout director, Miss Elizabeth Reis, commissioner of Girl Scouts, Miss Pauline Gilkey, a member of council and Miss Bonnie Christman, first class scout, have returned to this city after spending the past three weeks at camp in New York state.

Miss Christman attended Camp Andre, national camp for older Girl Scouts, while Miss Pugh, Miss Gilkey and Miss Reis attended Camp Edith Macy, at Briarcliff Manor, N. Y., national training camp for leaders. The camps are adjoining to each other.

The local delegates returned home Saturday night, and all report the sojourn in camp as most enjoyable.

Miss Edith Conant was in charge of Camp Macy. Miss Conant is national program director of girl scouts.

The local girls were under the direction of Miss Emelia Thorsel, regional director of the Hawatha region, which includes the states of Minnesota, North and South Dakota.

One hundred girl scouts from every state in the union were at the camp, according to Director Nance Pugh.

The program included many special activities. Outdoor cooking was included in the course, many new methods being demonstrated.

At Camp Andre, Miss Christman was one of the 104 girls, and a very interesting program was carried out at that camp also. The girls all of whom were between 14 and 18 years of age, did all their own cooking and the buying of supplies with the camp money. One especially interesting event was an overnight hike into Connecticut. The girls slept in the open, around camp fires. They took turns at watching the fire throughout the night. They returned to Camp Andre on the night of the second day.

Edith Macy was donated to the girl scouts by the late V. Everett Macy in memory of his wife, Edith Carpenter Macy, whose greatest interest was in the training of volunteer leaders to work with girl scouts. It covers 251 acres of beautiful woodland. On the terrace, about which the camp centers, is a country green. Above rises the great hall, a fine building of stone and oak.

Eight courses of two weeks each are given during the season. The local leaders took advanced courses in special activities, thus insuring many new ideas for the coming year and for camp, which will be held August 4 to 19 at the Fred Rentz Y. M. C. A. camp, along the Slippery Rock creek.

A dormitory is being built and it is planned to have courses at the camp throughout the whole year, winter and summer.

Justice

(Special To The News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 14.—Unless Pennsylvania is given a "square deal" in the provision of broadcasting facilities, the matter will be brought to the attention of the president, the press, and if necessary, congress, Senator David A. Reed has informed Major General Charles McK. Saltzman, chairman of the federal radio commission in a letter made public.

Charging the commission with discrimination against the state, Senator Reed said that there are perhaps 1,000,000 or more families which, because of the commission's alleged discrimination against Pennsylvania are entirely without satisfactory radio reception.

He declared that he could see no legal or administrative justification for the persistent failure of the commission to give Pennsylvania its proper quota of broadcasting facilities. Senator Reed cited specific instances in which station had been denied increases in power and other improved facilities.

It is obvious, he declared, "and the commission admits that Pennsylvania has not had a square deal and I am told this is true also of the zone of which Pennsylvania is a part."

"In saying this," Senator Reed wrote, "I am well aware of the difficulties which confront the commission. I do not minimize the administrative problem presented by the effort to satisfy a continuous and at times unreasonable demand for additional licenses and greater power for broadcasting stations.

"I am also aware of the engineering difficulties involved in attempting to allocate the available frequencies in a way that would best serve the public interest. It is obvious, however, that Pennsylvania has not had a square deal."

Under the "unit system" recently adopted by the radio commission to carry out the provisions of the Davis equalization amendment to the radio act, Pennsylvania is shown as being the most "under-quoted" state.

GAS COMPANY

COMPLETES JOB

Three And Half Miles Of New Gas Mains Are Laid Here

Completion by the Manufacture Light and Heat company of three and a half miles of new gas mains, a project which had been started April 1, in conjunction with the state-city improvement program was announced today by Joseph T. Campbell, superintendent of the gas company.

Work on replacing the old gas mains with new ones was ended late Saturday, with the final placing of lines on Croton avenue. The construction includes approximately 3,000 feet of gas main on Croton avenue, 5,000 feet on West Grant street, and 4,000 feet on Butler avenue. Superintendent Campbell said.

The new lines are constructed of four inch and six inch mains, laid two and a half feet underground.

The object of the improvement work of the utilities company was to construct new lines near street curbs. The new mains will supplement the old mains, which were laid in the roadways. With gas mains near curbs road construction will not be hampered, Mr. Campbell said.

The work was supervised by Mr. Campbell. A. M. Elder was the job foreman. Approximately 30 men of the Manufacture Light and Heat company were employed on the construction.

Potter Expects 100 Here To Seek To Take Advantage Of Measure

Nearly 100 World War veterans are expected by Orville Potter, secretary of the local Red Cross, to take advantage of the new amendments of the law governing the veterans' bureau. Application forms for indicating a desire for new benefits or additional compensation have been exhausted at the local office. Additional application forms will be received here soon, Mr. Potter announced.

Captain Herman H. Weimer of Chicago, recently elected national commander of the Disabled American War Veterans, says: "Provision is made for the disability allowance to any honorably discharged veteran who saw service at least 90 days during the World War and who entered the service prior to the armistice. These allowances are on the following scale: 25 per cent permanent disability, $12 per month; 50 per cent permanent disability, $18 per month; 75 per cent permanent disability, $25 per month; total disability, $40 per month. These benefits start from the date of application and in no case are retroactive. Persons paying income tax are not eligible for this particular allowance.

Youth Drowns In

Monongahela River

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, July 14.—Jimmy Barry, 9, prided himself on the fact that he wasn't a "big baby."

That was Jimmy's term for his elder brother, William, 11, and two playmates while the four were wading in the Monongahela river.

"You big babies—come on out. I'm not a big baby," gleefully chortled Jimmy as he waded farther from the shore.

An instant later, Jimmy was swept away by the current and whirled under the hull of the packet General Wood, docked in the river.

Police, drawn by the horrified cries of Jimmy's playmates, recovered the body an hour later.

HARRISBURG, July 14.—Pennsylvania's agricultural production is expected to surpass last year's output, the Department of Agriculture monthly crop report for July disclosed today. The condition of most all crops at the beginning of this month indicated a yield far in excess of the 1929 production.

Only the crop of tame hay and peaches showed any declines over last year. Yield's higher than the five-year average are expected this season for rye, potatoes and tobacco.

The corn crop at the beginning of this month indicated a yield of 53,541,000 bushels, or an increase of more than 7,000,000 bushels from last year. Winter wheat with an estimated production of 20,423,000 bushels will be more than 400,000 bushels over the 1929.

Early season estimates for other crops in the State this year are: Oats, 35,678,000 bushels, increase of approximately 5,700,000 bushels; rye, 2,054,000 bushels, increase of approximately 70,000 bushels; potatoes, 28,320,000 bushels, increase of 2,580,000 bushels; tobacco, 55,461,000 pounds, increase of approximately 7,890,000 pounds; tame hay, 3,670,000 tons, decrease of 650,000 tons; apples, 7,783,000 bushels, increase of approximately 1,800,000 bushels; peaches, 780,000 bushels, decrease of 377,000 bushels; pears, 493,000 bushels, increase of 221,000 bushels.

The Department made no estimate of the grape yield, although the condition of the crop was ten per cent better than a year ago.

Miners-Operators

Again In Session

For Wage Scale

Seek To Insert New Clauses In Agreement Which Expires On September 1

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 14.—Actual formation of clauses of the new miners-operators agreement, to replace the present one expiring September 1, was to be taken up this week, with the resumption today of the conference of committees of the two bodies.

Discussion of the difference between the Pennsylvania anthracite miners and the operators, which occupied all of last week without a definite agreement being reached, was expected to continue this week for a few days, but it was confidently predicted that the committees would be able to meet at a halfway point soon, as avoidance of a walk-out is an aim of both parties.

The principal differences are on the questions of wages and the check-off system. The miners are fighting for a higher wage level for all mine labor and better equalization of work, and take the stand that a cut will not be tolerated. The operators have suggested a wage cut. The miners also embody among the principles of their program a stand for the system of collection of union dues by the operators.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, is taking an active part in the tri-district conference.

Nature Guide Class Study New Shrubbery On The College Campus

SLIPPERY ROCK, July 14.—The Nature Guide class, which is under the supervision of Dr. R. A. Waldron, in addition to their field trips, have begun a study of the new shrubbery which is being planted on the campus.

The students found that the shrubbery was not chosen entirely because of its beauty, but for the use of the Nature classes at the college.

The European privet, in the small space just outside the laboratory door, is a "clutter" for punishment," said Dr. Waldron, "and will grow under conditions that would kill another shrub. It is often used as a hedge."

The thuja pyramidata or arborescens, characterized by its flat leaf and belonging to the pine family, is used for ornamental purposes on either side of the steps and is flanked by a low growing shrub, the pitted juniper, another evergreen. The Boston ivy, just beginning to creep on the building, is the best ivy for quick growth and in the autumn has brilliant scarlet and yellow colors.

On the northern side of the administration building are planted the choke berry, belonging to the rose family and having alternate leaves; the honeysuckle, Diervilla trifida, characterized by opposite leaves and paired fruits, the flowers having five petals and five stamens; the Kerria japonica or yellow rose, having alternate leaves and the syringa albastris, having large, sweet smelling flowers.

The east side of the building has the Philadelphia favorite or mock orange; Thujia standishii, which is another type of arborescens; the golden tipped New England creeping juniper; Juniperus communis prostrata aurea, a low growing evergreen; Thujia reversa, an arborescens with the leaves turning in the opposite direction; Retinospora plumata, which is shaped like a pyramid and is rather feathery in appearance. There is also a creeping juniper with yellowish green tips called Communis depressa and the Japanese barberry red leaves.

At either side of the door in front of the building is the European privet.

To the right is a low growing plant with the small pink flowers like a ball, resembling the lilac, called Daphne, and the creeping holly, Ilex crenata, a very small plant with shiny leaves, sometimes called winter creeper.

At the right of the bed in front of the administration building is a great favorite of Dr. Waldron's, the sweet pepper bush or summer sweet, which is found abundantly in the woods of New England.

Continuing toward North Hall there is yellow stemmed dogwood, having opposite leaves; Rhodotyus with rose family; Forsythia or golden bell, characterized by its small yellow flowers in the early spring.

In front of Dr. Eisenberg's apartments is found the hibernica juniper called the Irish juniper, having a pale green color; the Oregon holly grape, which is almost an evergreen, and the oriental arbutus.

Dr. Waldron said that next week the class would complete North Hall and the chapel, and the following week the remainder of the campus.

Woman Struck By Machine Recovering

Mrs. Andrew C. Kelliher, of 108 East Wallace avenue, who was in the Jameson Memorial hospital for ten days from injuries sustained in an auto accident which occurred on June 24th when crossing Highland avenue at Wallace, is reported to be slowly recovering at her home.

Although Mrs. Kelliher is on the road to recovery, and is able to be up and about the house and go out in the machine, she is in a weakened condition and suffers considerably from her injuries.

THE QUESTION BOX CENTRAL PRESS WASHINGTON BUREAU

Answers to questions of information and fact can be obtained by writing to Central Press Bureau, P. O. Box 126, Washington, D. C., and enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope. No answers will be given to marital, medical or legal questions.

1. Was the eighteenth amendment to the constitution voted on by the people or was it ratified by the state legislatures? 2. Did Representative Volstead write the Volstead act?

1. The constitution provides that amendments be made either in constitutional conventions or by ratification by the state legislatures. The latter method was used in ratifying the eighteenth amendment. 2. It is generally admitted that Burton K. Wheeler, late head of the Anti-Saloon league, wrote the Volstead act, which was given its name because Representative Volstead was chairman of the committee in charge of drafting the act.

Did Vice President Curtis hold any political office before he became vice president?

Mr. Curtis was elected to the house of representatives in 1892 and served until 1907, when he was elected to fill out the unexpired term of J. R. Burton in the senate. He was in the senate from 1914 until his inauguration as vice president. He was elected from the state of Kansas.

Is there a law forbidding the use of the mails for the sending of lottery tickets?

In 1890 congress passed an act forbidding the transmission through the mails of lottery advertising and tickets. An act of congress, in 1894, forbade, also, the importation of lottery tickets or advertising relating to them.

How old is the oldest tree in the world?

The oldest tree in the world, according to the Missouri Botanical Bulletin, is a bald cypress growing in Santa Maria del Tula, Mexico. It is about 125 feet in circumference, and from 4,000 to 6,000 years old. The Sequoia trees of the National Park are estimated to be between 3,000 and 4,000 years old.

What are meteorites?

Meteorites, as you know them, are bodies of iron or stone ranging in size from particles of dust to masses of 30 tons weight, that circle through space like little planets. Ordinarily they are too small to be seen, but when they enter the earth's atmosphere, as thousands of them do daily, they become visible through being made hot from the friction of the air.

The small meteorites burn up when far above the earth and are known as the familiar "shooting stars." The larger masses, known as meteors during their glowing passage through the air, often reach the earth as meteorites.

Local Mother Puts Baby And Puppy In Wire Cage!

The real question is, how can mama keep baby at home?

Sure, it sounds easy. But the man at the carnival asks you to guess which nut shell covers the pea and you think to yourself "why that is a cinch because I saw him put it under the middle one" but you soon find that the pea wasn't where it should have been and that it wasn't as easy as it had sounded!

And so, hundreds of mothers have discovered gray hairs peeping impishly from their heads, just about the time their little Susies and Juniors pass their second birthday. When the creeping days pass, the mischievous young ones let their little legs carry them out into the streets, in coal piles, in tar barrels, in chicken pens and in trouble.

Then mamas sit down and wonder, wonder how they can keep them at home and out of mischief while they prepare hubbies dinner.

Ideas come. And they go. One New Castle mother thought of a bright one. She made a harness for her child fitted the child into it and secured it to the porch! Solved, as friend Sherlock would say.

Mais non! The question was not solved. It but came more complicated! The lady next door called the police.

So the story goes, telling them of the tied child. The police officers called the mother before the mayor. She told the facts and asked—How would you like to go a chasin' all day for the kid? The Honorable One gasped and excused her.

Other mothers have had different ideas, they pen 'em on the porch, put 'em on patent kiddie-cars, put 'em on daddy's knee, but somehow these methods don't always work, and when baby starts bawling, and when baby starts, well, you know how it is. Or maybe you don't. At any rate, it is awful, and you have to run down to the corner to get a lolly-pop and sometimes even that won't work.

But there is one mother in New Castle who deserves a gold star for her super smartness, for here is what she did to keep her baby at home, no bother to anyone and ver' ver' contented. She set the little blond on the front lawn of her home on North Jefferson street, Saturday afternoon, set a black and white poodle puppy (a little smaller than so big beside the child, and then put a wire cage over them both!

Yes, that is what the crowd of pedestrians were looking at Baby was delighted with the loud and raucous voice of Poodle. Everyone was happy.

OH, THESE WOMEN!

By LEOLA ALLARD

Gather around me ye Woofers and hear ye, hear ye, hear ye.

If you think you are having a hard life and you are bursting with complaints you can't find a better lesson than I have in Mrs. L. B. of Allentown, Pennsylvania. She read the letter of the wife who said all women were "handicapped," and she wants to hand the writer and all her like a good big package. Here it is:

"Dear Miss Allard: I've just read about handicapped wives. Here is my answer. I married two years ago. Three months later we found out my husband had a bad case of tuberculosis. We thought it was bronchitis. We did not have a good doctor as we were trying so hard to save so we could get married. We have a fifteen months old baby and she has had to go to her grandmothers so she would not become tubercular. Her father wants to protect the baby and won't go near her and it's pretty hard for him. He also goes to the office part of each day so the whole burden won't fall on me and make me what the woman called "handicapped."

"My husband isn't what you would call a thoughtful man. That is he doesn't jump up when I enter the room, doesn't pull my chair out when I sit at table. But when he has anything at all, I am the one to benefit by it, not himself. He has broken off smoking too. Sunday a week ago he presented me with a pair of pearls (earrings) just cheap ones, of course, but they were bought with the cigar money he had saved so long, and the job as I did before marriage, and I feel I'm working for something worth while. I wouldn't be single again for the world with a fence around it. Considering we have had trouble from our wedding day, sickness and all kinds of things, you would think it would be discouraging. But we feel sure we are going to hit someday, and the people who don't marry because they haven't money and luxuries are missing the fun of their lives to be had only by helping each other. Some women have a "scared complex." I'm for more marriages and more so-called "handicapped" wives. And I haven't either time or the inclination to try to be a unique specimen.

Louise B.
Now don't you feel ashamed of yourself? Aren't you going to try to be happy with what you have, and work without kicking, and smile without looking like a martyr with a gold frame around you? Isn't this a wholesome inspiring letter?

I think so.

LELONG'S MID-SEASON COLLECTION

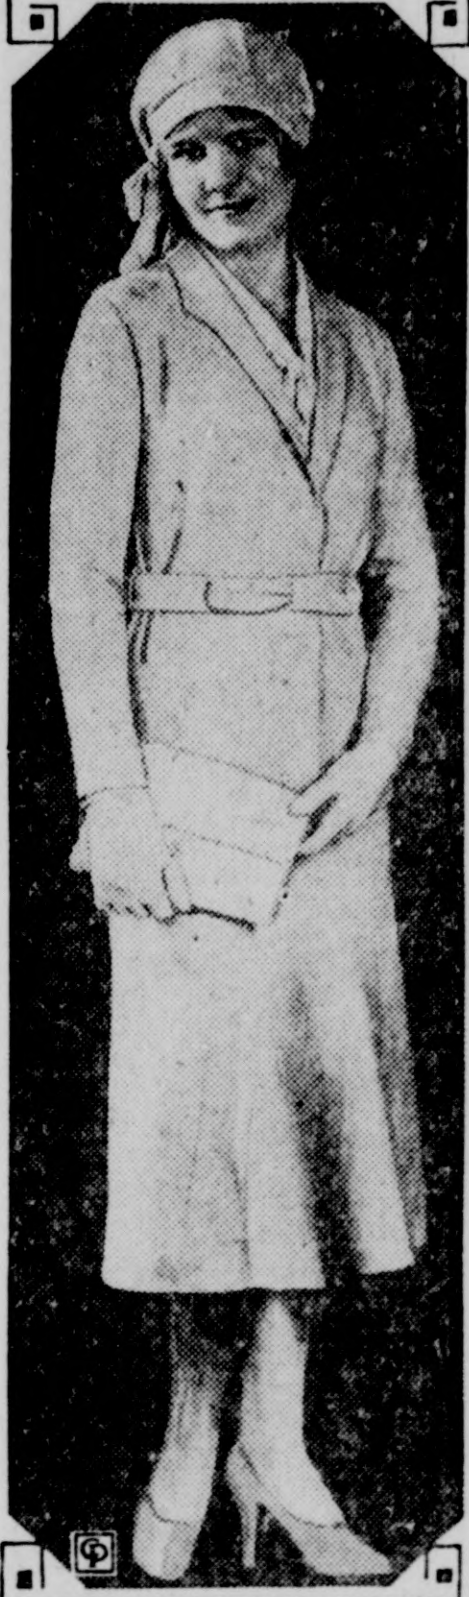

Lucien Lelong's mid-season collection does not, he avers, bring any drastic changes to the silhouette. Rather it crystallizes the conceptions already launched. "I created my mid-season collection," he says, "with the image of the individual woman very present before my mind's eye. I have made for my daytime ensembles two types of coat—the full length, that lends height to the small woman, and the knee-length cutaway that may be worn most advantageously by the tall woman." Two of his ensembles are sketched.

The Parent Problem

by GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

Don't Abuse Hospitality Of Rural Kin

Many city children are going with their parents to a farm or other country places.

Incidentally, some city families become heavy burdens to their rural relatives. Wonderful as are the pleasures to the city child in a visit to his country cousins, he is learning wrong ideas if his pleasures mean an imposition on the friends with whom his family visit.

Such visits have their hazard to the health and safety of the child, particularly of the toddlers. Confronted by so many new and interesting situations he will rush into dangers least suspected by his parents or his hosts. There may be the unguarded well or open spring which little tots are sure to investigate. A deep brook or pool of tub of water, or a hanging scythe, or a fender-chopper, or other farm tools may prove to be serious hazards. If someone is moving with a scythe or with a machine horse-drawn, the young child may get into the way and receive tragic injuries.

The barn with its lofts, trap doors and holes leading from the mows of hay, is full of dangers to the city child. He may annoy the horses into kicking him or treading on his feet, and other barnyard animals may frighten him almost to death. Parents who foresee such hazards guard their little ones against them.

On going with young children to a farm in summer, know first that the water has been tested and is pure. Otherwise let no one of your family drink it until it has been boiled. A great deal of typhoid fever still is lurking in the country places. You and your children will be safer if before you leave the city you all have been inoculated against typhoid fever to be repeated every five or six years.

Such precaution is desirable even when going for a summer motor tour. Warn your children against drinking from neighboring wells and

HAPPY HEARTS

Happy they, who through the day
Meet with friends along the way;
And when time and strength are spent,
Sit at home and are content.

Happy they, whatever their place,
Who have edged their deeds with grace;
And by neighbors, near and far,
Truly loved and cherished are.

Happy they, who understand
Life to no man's whim is planned;
That both joy and grief must fall,
To the knowledge of us all.

Happy they who bravely hear
What descends of pain and care;
Undisturbed by pomp or pride,
Asking naught that is denied.

Happy they, though missing fame,
Or the cheers which conquerors claim;
Who have lived and labored well,
And in men's affections dwell.

Classes Will Make Preserves For Hospital

At the Sunday morning session of the Baldwin Bible class of the Highland United Presbyterian church, the president, Mrs. Ray Rhodes, announced that all organized classes and different organizations of the churches of the city had been requested through the summer, as they do their preserving and jelly making, to put aside a small portion for the Jameson Memorial hospital and in the fall, when canning time is over, these goods will be brought to a center down town and put on display before being taken to the hospital. The time for the cutting of weeds was extended by Burgess Paul Terhune, who says that July 15 is the zero hour and any weeds that are not cut by that time will be cut by the borough and the bill will be sent to the owner. It is hoped that every one will have enough civic pride to have all the weeds cut by the date set.

There were four plead guilty to liquor violations, Joe Bell, Alice Kelly, Mrs. H. A. Robins, and William Shaffer.

Further redemption of bonds are to take place soon and the commissioners ask that all those holding road bonds.

Nervous, Tired, Felt Miserable

"After my baby came I was so nervous and tired that I felt miserable. One day a booklet was left at our door and after reading it I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I am now on my fourth bottle and I feel much stronger. Please publish this letter because the Vegetable Compound has helped me in every way and I feel sure that other women in rundown condition will pick up if they will only take a few bottles."—Mrs. Lloyd R. The Way OF THE World

By GROVE PATTERSON

THE TRUCK PERIL

New figure tells us that today more steel is used by the auto makers than by the railroads. The "ships by truck" business has reached large proportions. And the trucks have no private right of way to build and maintain. They use the same roads that the rest of us use or try to use when we are not crowded into the ditches along the way. Truck concerns should have private roads just as railroads do. They are getting too much for too little. Trucks and trailers are menaces to life. This revolution in transportation in which we are engaged is by no means near the end. It isn't peacefully settled and won't be until the ordinary family gets a fair chance on the right of way, and until trucks run on their own roads.

Apart from the danger, trucks destroy roads at an enormous rate. They tear them down almost as fast as they can be repaired. We, the people, stand for a great deal.

GROW TREES

Great idea of Chairman Legge of the federal farm board who would have farm states exempt growing timber from taxation. We cut down and burn and waste our forests. The great timber companies of the United States would gladly co-operate in re-foresting to a larger extent than they do if taxation was not so high on cut-over lands. If state legislatures will use their heads they can make it possible for the farmer to let part of his acreage to into new timber.

MOST TO BE ENVIED

There is a business man in New York who must be either the smartest or the most courageous man in the world. He did long ago what thousands of us would like to do today if we only had the nerve to go against custom. He took the telephone out of his office. He hears no bells, answers no calls, is never disturbed. Perhaps this article is only half serious. Sometimes one thinks, it might be entirely serious.

WHEN YOU ARE HAPPY

Well, here is Walter Pitkin, of Columbia university, who tells us when man is happy. Read what he says and see how you check up with it. "A man is fundamentally happy when three conditions are fulfilled."

"First, when he has a set of cravings, appetites, aspirations, wants, or whatever you choose to call them, which are not essentially in conflict with one another."

"Second, when he lives in an environment where he is able to satisfy his craving by the use of such physical and mental energies as he may possess."

"Third, if, as he satisfies them, he gets the right emotional reaction toward his success."

SOMETHING FOR HIS MONEY

The navel conference in London cost the American taxpayers $4,000 a day. That's all right. We are good spenders, but we have a right to want our money's worth. Are we finally going to get $4,000 a day's worth of world peace or is that sum merely to be added to the battleship budget? What this country needs right now is the peace that comes with the adjournment of congress. Here's your hat and don't hurry back.

Farmers Relief "Bugaboo" Back In Washington

Howl For Farm Relief Is Not Coming Alone From
Wheat Producing States

WHEAT SELLING
LOWEST IN YEARS

Debtors Plan Supporters
Will Seek To Get Action
When Congress
Meets

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Like the cat that came back, the ancient issue of farm relief returned to the administration doorstep today with wheat selling for 85 cents a bushel, the lowest price in nearly 20 years. Renewed demands for corrective action are fairly inundating Washington. Not only the wheat producers but also the farmers generally are similarly priced, so that the howl for relief is not coming entirely from the wheat producing states.

Senator Arthur Capper (R) of Kansas, who has been demanding during the past week that the farm board purchase 100,000,000 bushels of wheat in the open market, spent the weekend with President Hoover at his Rapidan fishing camp. There was a full discussion of the situation, but what, if anything, is to come of it was not apparent today.

Debtors Plan
One development that is considered more or less of a certainty is that the bitter fight over the debtors plan will be revived when Congress meets again. Unless there is a marked recovery in grain prices between now and December, and no one in authority in Washington envisions such recovery, the 1930 crop of wheat is now coming on the market—abundantly and in great volume—to add to the already glutted elevators and storage places.

The administration was barely able to stop the debtors plan in the last Congress. The plea that the farm board had not yet been in operation sufficiently long to demonstrate the soundness and workability of the administration's program. The Senate twice voted for the debtors, but the obedient House killed it at the behest of the White House.

The debtors have been repeatedly denounced as "unsound" and economically reprehensible by President Hoover. It is a characterization which its advocates have warmly disputed. That it is coming up again in December is accepted almost as a foregone conclusion, and with grain prices dipping to new low levels, despite the ministrations of the year-old farm board, there is admittedly serious doubt as to whether even the docile House can stop it next time.

Powerful Argument
The debtors' sponsors, who number some of the most influential members of the Senate, are going to have a powerful argument to support their position. The fact that commodity prices have sunk steadily since the farm board began operation puts them in a position where they plan to say to the White House: "We have tried your plan. It has not worked. Now we will try our plan."

The extensive trip which Chairman Alexander Legge and Secretary of Agriculture Arthur M. Hyde are making through the West, seeking to "sell" the grain producers the idea of reducing the acreage, admittedly has failed. Everywhere the two administration officials have had to confront the situation that one year after the administration's effort to relieve the farmer, wheat is selling for the lowest price in 17 years.

Demand Legge Resign
In Kansas Chairman Legge ran into demands from the Wichita Beacon that he resign his office. Everywhere he two officials have met with dissatisfaction and criticism of conditions and policies.

The farm board is now holding some 60,000,000 bushels of wheat which it purchased at from $1.15 to $1.20 a bushel. On Saturday it sold some 2,250,000 bushels of this wheat at about 80 cents a bushel. The sale itself resulted in renewed criticism from the wheat belt, where the new crop is coming on the market. The sale put the board in the position of competing with the new crop.

Republican members of Congress from the great commodity producing states up for re-election are acutely worried over the situation. Like the producers themselves, the politically minded congressmen are inundating Washington with demands for corrective action.

None of them appear to know exactly what to do, but all of them are insistent that something should be done about it. Meanwhile, like the cat that came back, the issue of farm relief is perched again on Washington's doorstep.

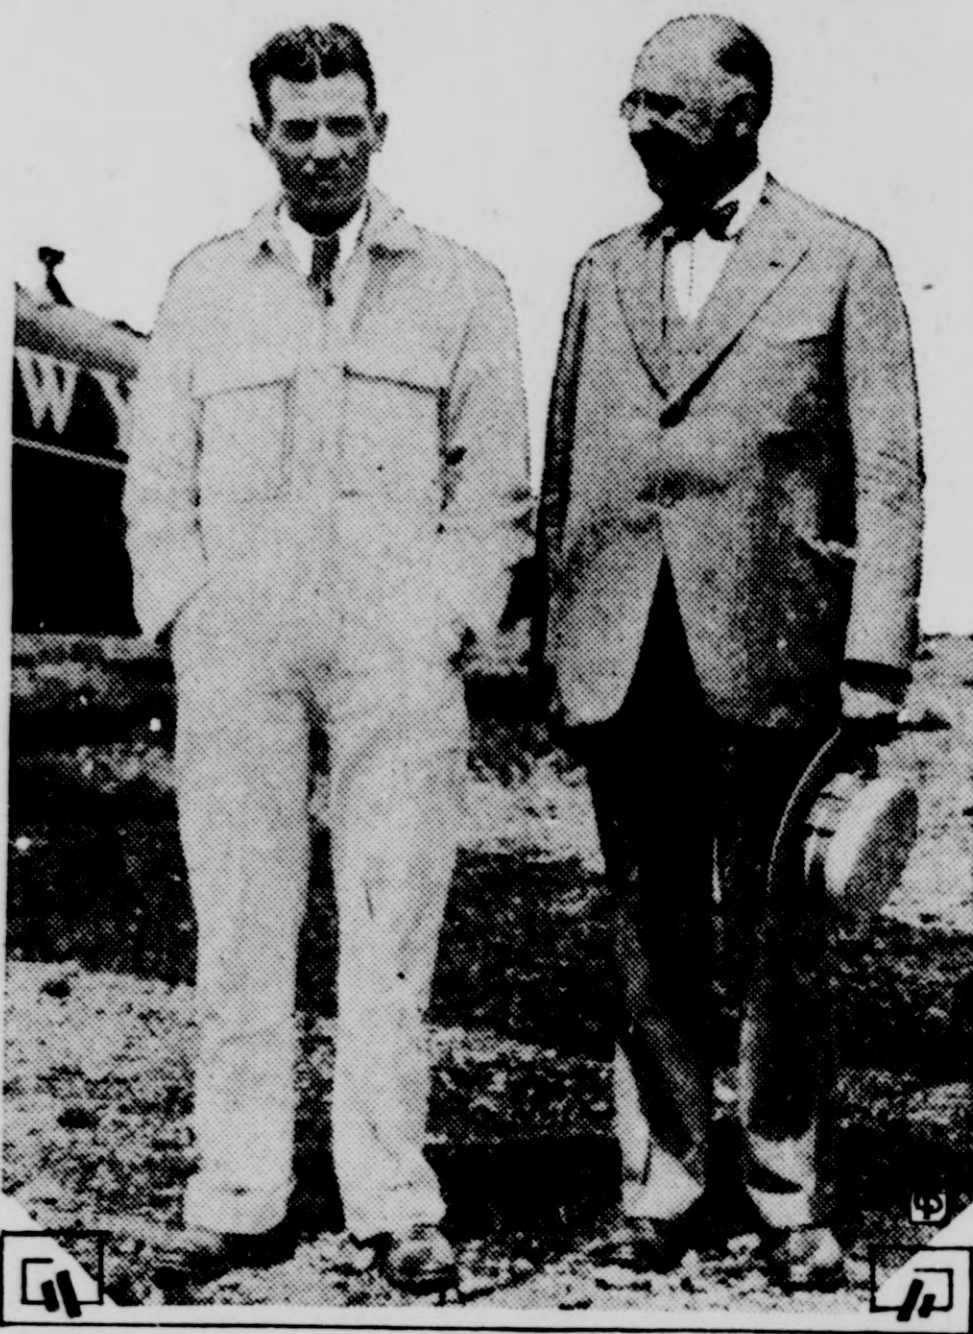

Mistake In Number On Beckford Street

In the article concerning the arrest of William Nygard and William Johnson published Saturday, it was stated that they were apprehended at 1005 Beckford street. This was a mistake, the correct number being 1051 Beckford street, according to the police.

FRUIT STOLEN AT PRODUCE HOUSE

Entrance into the place of business of the New Castle Produce company on Grove street was effected some time during the night by thieves, who helped themselves to watermelons, oranges and tomatoes. Detective C. G. Logan and Officer Thomas Lynch made the investigation for the police department today and found that entrance had been gained by breaking a window of the place.

OUTLINING MEARS' WORLD FLIGHT

Final tests are being given the City of New York, by John Henry Mears, famous globe-girdler, and his pilot, Henry J. Brown, winner of the Los Angeles-Cleveland air derby last year, succeeds Fred Melchior as pilot. Above, he is at left, with Mears, talking over plans.

Hope To Show Violation In "Merger" Deal

Attorneys Fighting Consolidation Hope To Prove Anti-Trust Violation

By BURL A. ELY
International News Service Staff

YOUNGSTOWN, O., July 14.—Hoping to show violation of the federal anti-trust laws, attorneys fighting the consolidation of the Youngstown Sheet & Tube company and Bethlehem Steel corporation, today were expected to pry witnesses for further details regarding Bethlehem's undisclosed loan of $800,000 to pro-merger forces during the now-famous "battle of proxies" over the merger last April.

The loan was revealed last week in the testimony of Henry Dalton, partner in Pickands, Mather & Co., during the trial of the "billion-dollar lawsuit" before Judge David G. Jenkins in common pleas court here to halt the consummation of the merger. Dalton testified under questioning that Pickands, Mather & Co. borrowed the $800,000 without note or collateral, from Bethlehem to purchase Sheet & Tube stock to be voted in favor of the merger. He also admitted that his concern spent $9,000,000 in buying up Sheet & Tube stock during the proxy battle. Bethlehem and Sheet & Tube each had valuable ore contracts with Pickands, Mather.

Using this testimony as an opening wedge, anti-merger attorneys hope to prove that Bethlehem money was used in putting across the merger, placing the transaction in violation of the anti-trust laws.

Opinions Rendered By Judge Chambers In Several Cases

Necessary For Jury To Pass
Upon Alleged Partnership In Handy Service Stores
Cases

In the case of the American Art company against M. W. McClelland and others, trading as the Handy Service Stores, Judge James A. Chambers handed down an opinion this morning in which a rule on a motion to amend title of case is made absolute and the title is amended as asked.

This is a case in which the American Art company is claiming $991.50 from the Handy Service Stores for advertising matter. The case was originally brought against the parties running the stores as individuals and as partners. Operators of the stores claim that no partnership exists. Plaintiffs claim that there is a partnership. As the case now stands a trial will be necessary to determine whether or not there is a partnership.

In the matter of the estate of Luther Sample, deceased, in which it was claimed that Mary J. Sample, Wallace S. Sample and Oliver H. Sample, were not handling the property for the best interests of the estate, an opinion was handed down removing them and appointing the Citizens National bank as executor. A final account must be filed by those who have been administering the estate.

In the case of Max Ludwig against the Frew Furniture company, rule granted on motion for judgment for want of a sufficient affidavit of defense filed, April 23, 1930, is stricken off, with the right of the defendants to file an affidavit within 15 days.

In the case of the Art Film Studios against the Universal Sales company, rule issued on motion for judgment for want of a sufficient affidavit of defense is made absolute, and judgment is directed to be entered in favor of the plaintiff and against the defendant for want of a sufficient affidavit of defense.

In the case of the Home Protective Savings & Loan Association against Patsy Anna Woodson and James Woodson, rule to show cause why writ in the case should not be stayed is discharged, and the sheriff is directed to proceed with the execution of the writ.

In the case of Alex C. Miles against Vera M. and Ida M. Finnegan, exceptions filed on rule for interpleader are discharged and rule for interpleader made absolute and an issue awarded. In the case of the Chal-Max Sales company against Hugh W. Tomb, rule to show cause why judgment should not be stricken off the record is discharged.

In the case of William J. Quinn against Joseph and Louise Conti, rule to show cause why judgment should not be entered against the plaintiff and in favor of the defendant had borrowed $2000 on a mortgage, the money belonging to Quinn. Attorney Clyde Gibson, who had made out the papers, collected the interest and $500 of the principal and turned it over to Quinn. Conti's claim that they had paid off the entire mortgage to Gibson. Quinn claimed that he had never received the additional $1500. The question has arisen as to whether Gibson was agent of Quinn or of Conti's and the matter of agency is the crucial point of the case. The court holds that it is a matter for the jury to decide on the evidence.

In the matter of the will of the late Olive Aiken of Slippery Rock township, the Union Trust company was appointed trustee to make sale of the interest of Olive Aiken in a farm in Slippery Rock township, owned jointly by Olive Aiken and Margaret P. File Complaint Against Robbins As Commissioner

Complaint Filed Against Presence Of Richard Robbins On State Air
Commission

PITTSBURGH MEN ARE PROTESTING

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, July 14.—Aviation interest in Western Pennsylvania centered today on the complaint against the presence of Richard W. Robbins on the Pennsylvania State Aeronautics commission made by the Pittsburgh Airways Inc. Robbins drew the fire of the Pittsburgh Airways in the complaint made to Governor John S. Fisher because of his connection as vice president with the Pittsburgh Aviation Industries corporation.

Friends of Robbins did not remain silent when apprised of the complaint. George N. Munro, Jr., general counsel for the company with which Robbins is affiliated, made the somewhat ironic comment that the legislative act creating the commission "does not provide that the members of the commission must know nothing about aviation."

"The Governor is authorized to appoint commissioners without pay," Munro pointed out. "It would seem natural that the persons whom he would select would be those familiar with the practical problems of aviation, and vitally interested in this new and rapidly developing means of transportation."

"Charge Irregularities"
"Surely if it was the intention of the legislature to prevent men who are financially interested in aviation or who are officers of aviation companies from being qualified to serve on a commission which pays no salary, the legislature would have said so in so many words."

The complaint asserted irregularities in Robbins' membership on the commission while connected with his company and in his appearance before the State Public Service commission during hearings relative to the Pittsburgh Airways' application for a permit to operate planes on regular schedule through the state.

"To state that a member of the State Aeronautics commission is barred from appearing before the Public Service commission is as absurd as to state that he is barred from appearing before a city council or a board of county commissioners or a small public body," Munro concluded.

POPULATION OF OHIO 6,605,953; GAIN OF 865,275

COLUMBUS, O., July 14.—Ohio's population for 1930 is 6,605,953, according to complete unofficial census returns.

This is an increase of 865,275, or about 15 per cent. over 1920, when the population was 5,740,678.

Although the state as a whole maintained its normal growth during the ten-year period, the compilation, completed last night, revealed a thinning in the rural sections, 39 of the 88 counties reporting decreases ranging from 21 to 4,866.

Cuyahoga county (Cleveland) easily held its place at the head of the list with a nose count of 1,197,818, as compared with 943,495 in 1920.

Hamilton county, including Cincinnati, was next with 589,114, an increase of 95,436.

Elephant Dies; Age Is 93 Years

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., July 14.—Bess, the first elephant John F. Ringling ever owned, died here Sunday of old age.

The 93-year-old tusker was captured in India 43 years ago and had been a large part of the Ringling circus ever since. She was found dead by George Denman, her trainer for 34 years.

Bess won John Ringling's heart many years ago. The circus was then playing Prairie Du Chien, Wis., and Bess pulled the whole circus out of town, just a couple of laps ahead of the sheriff and a load of attachment papers. At least, that's the story circus people tell.

The Peabody museum at Yale will inherit Bess.

Blue Day Is Quiet At Steubenville

Sheriff Fails To Make Any Arrests; Many Stores Close Voluntarily

STEUBENVILLE, O., July 14.—Steubenville experienced its first "blue Sunday" in half a century yesterday, a majority of the business houses of the city remaining closed all day.

Sheriff William Yost of Jefferson County, had announced late Saturday night that he would make no arrests, a complete reversal of his original stand, but many business men decided to stay closed anyway.

Sheriff Yost and his deputies cruised about the city and county during the day, noting violations here but making no arrests.

As to his course in the future, Sheriff Yost said he was "through" trying to enforce the blue laws and that hereafter he will act only upon information of court order.

"I decided there wasn't much use trying to close the county up tight and I won't try it again," he said.

Cigar stores and drug stores and most confectioneries remained closed all day voluntarily.

Sunday newspapers were sold as usual.

Most gas stations were open for business as usual.

Perry Highway Link To Trouble Its Builders

GREENVILLE, July 14.—When Hanlon and Oakes, paving contractors of St. Paul, Minn., got the contract for the 807 miles of the Perry Highway north of Sheakleville into Union township, Crawford county, they took one of the most hazardous jobs in the state.

At least, that is the view of observers in this district who know the type of terrain over which the new road must go. Although the bid which they offered, $482,565, brings the cost to an average of about $600,000 per mile, at least one of the eight miles may cost twice that figure.

The most difficult part of the contract will be the distance across the Conneaut Marsh, where a considerable amount of filling will be necessary.

An old township road is to be followed more or less closely through this section but it is understood to be several feet lower than the new road will be. It is also narrower than the 20-foot concrete road to be built.

The Conneaut Marsh is famous for going out of its banks with every wet spring or fall, and each year there is open a period of a week or more when the road is under water. The terrain on each side of the road is of uncertain quality, and it may be necessary to fill extremely to make a hard road bed.

While other bids on the project were not made public, it is understood that other contractors contemplated a much higher price than the low bid, because of the uncertain nature of the complications which may arise.

It is even rumored that one or two bidding contractors sisted with something akin to relief when they failed to submit the low bid. The section is considered one of the biggest problems of road construction to be found in the state in an otherwise simple piece of work.

The bid includes four bridges, three of which are to be of concrete construction, the fourth a single plate girder bridge.

Improvement in weight characteristic of the C. M. T. C. Troops at the close of camp. Regular hours, outdoor life, balanced exercises, good food, well prepared all tend to make the weight line tend toward the normal. Those underweight gain, and those overweight lose.

Correct this sentence: "At 18 I needed no guardian," said the mother, "and I'm afraid to give my daughter the freedom I wanted."

PORT HOYLE, Md., July 14.—Many mothers on Sunday probably wished that "sonny boy" away learning to be an Artilleryman at the Citizens Military Training Camp at Fort Hoyle, Md., were home for Sunday dinner. If she had been able to see the menu of the mess for that meal in advance, her wish might have been changed to "I wish We might take dinner with 'sonny boy'."

Few hotel in the country served a more tempting dinner than the two hundred and fifty citizens soldiers ate today, and their portions were not so large, nor were "seconds" available at the hotel. And more especially to the point, after the army meal, "Uncle Sam" paid the check.

Here is what the mess officer provided: fried chicken, mashed potatoes, giblet gravy, cream peas, celery, lettuce, sliced cold tomatoes, bread and butter, apple pie, ice cream, and lemonade.

Let's you think that this was a special treat for somebody's birthday, just glance at the breakfast menu: fried eggs, fried bacon, fried potatoes, assorted cereals, fresh milk, mixed fruits, bread, butter, and coffee.

At home, usually Sunday supper consists of a good meal from the remains of dinner, but here's what Uncle Sam feeds out: Hamburger steak, boiled potatoes, fresh string beans, giblet gravy, celery, pickles, bread and butter, iced tea, and apple butter.

It is not surprising, therefore, that statistics show a considerable improvement in weight characteristic of the C. M. T. C. Troops at the close of camp. Regular hours, outdoor life, balanced exercises, good food, well prepared all tend to make the weight line tend toward the normal. Those underweight gain, and those overweight lose.

Decisions Given By Hildebrand In Cases At Court

Opinions Handed Down At Short
Session Of Court This Morning

Opinions were handed down by Judge R. Lawrence Hildebrand at court this morning in a number of cases tried before him.

In the case of Helen Dudak, by Ignacy Dudak, her father, and the latter in his own right, against Stanley Data, defendant's motion for judgment, notwithstanding the verdict, was granted as to Ignacy Dudak, the father. This was a breach of promise suit in which Miss Dudak was awarded $100 by the jury, and her father $20. Under the decision the father's share of the verdict is stricken off.

In the case of Frank Andrews and George Andrews, trading as Frank P. Andrews and son against James Durrant, a new trial is refused and judgment for defendant is directed to be entered on the verdict. This was a suit over a bill in which the verdict was for defendant.

In the case of Paul J. Ringer against Michael Zalac, motion of defendant for judgment notwithstanding the verdict is granted, and judgment is directed to be entered in favor of defendant and against the plaintiff. This case grew out of an automobile accident and the jury had awarded the plaintiff a verdict for $100.

In the case of Luigi Gulmarino against Charles Ross, Concetta Leonardo and Bartholomew Leonardo, rule on plaintiff to show cause why judgment should not be opened as to the petitioner, Bartholomew Leonardo, is made absolute and, and judgment opened. The judgment as to Concetta Leonardo had previously been stricken off.

In the case of Sylvester Hergenrother against Nick Rosen, which reached the court on a petition of plaintiff for an order striking off the record bill of costs and for the printing of a paper book, a rule granted is made absolute and a decree is entered striking off record costs and paper book bill, the total amounting to $363. The sheriff is directed to proceed to collect balance of costs. The case grew out of a dispute over some property near Chewton.

In the case of Francis E. Sowersby against Jonas Kaufman, petition to open judgment obtained before a justice of the peace. Rule to show cause why judgment should not be opened is discharged, and the sheriff is directed to proceed with execution.

In the case of the Continental Jewelry company against A. M. Richman, a question of law raised by affidavit of defense is decided against the defendant, who is allowed fifteen days to file an affidavit of defense. In the matter of the first partial account of W. E. Porter, executor of John H. Grossart, deceased, exceptions filed by Mrs. Marie Grossart and John Grossart, Jr., to auditor's report are dismissed, and distribution is directed in accordance with the auditor's schedule.

In the case of Elizabeth Sharp against Lorenzo Schmidt, motion for a new trial is refused. In this case plaintiff secured a verdict against Schmidt for $195.32 which she claimed that she had given him, while she was at the Castle Mission. Schmidt claimed that the money was for improvements to the place in order that he might make room for Mrs. Sharp as a tenant at the mission.

Motoring

THERE'S only one reason for the amazing, instantaneous landslide of the public to the new Blowout-Proof Dual-Balloons—it's the one and only way to keep safe with today's cars and driving conditions—more power, more speed, crowded traffic and always the ditch only a couple feet away.

Traveling at 44 to 88 feet a second, when a tire blows without warning, you're wrecked in a split second.

It's a chance you need never take again. You can trust your life to the Blowout-Proof Dual-Balloon.

Safe against the sudden impact of road holes and bumps that shatter the carcasses of ordinary tires at today's highway speed.

Safe, too, against that equally dangerous tire hazard—the unseen, inside wear of heat and friction in tires of reclaimed rubber. General's policy is pure rubber and more of it. General's patented Dual-Balloon design eliminates breaker strips and sharp bending. Unmatched, all-over flexibility allows lower air pressure and no premature wear. That's why it's Blowout-Proof and easier riding, too.

Youngster Hero In Saving Life Of His Cousin

Youngster Lowered Into Well
Saves Cousin From Drowning Until Rescue Is Made

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, July 14.—His courage in permitting himself to be lowered to the bottom of a well where he held his three-year-old cousin above the water until they were rescued today gave Robert Blair, 14, the title and plaudits of a hero.

The cousin, William Conrad, was revived by firemen after they had worked over him with a pumpmotor for an hour.

Robert and William were visiting at the home of an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Johnson, when William suddenly disappeared as the two boys were playing in the yard. A frantic search revealed the child, unconscious and under five feet of water at the bottom of a 40-foot well.

A rope was tied about the elder boy and he was lowered into the well. He grasped his cousin and held him safely above the water until a neighbor, William Weisgerber, was lowered on another rope. The two boys were then hauled to the surface.

Meanwhile firemen had been called and arrived as the boys were pulled out. A pumpmotor was applied to William and after an hour's work he was revived.

Lieutenant Thrills With Stunts In Sky

Ellwood People Are Amazed At "Dare-Devil" Stunts Of Aviator

ELLWOOD CITY, July 14.—Thrilling many awed spectators Lieutenant "Bill" William Thomas, formerly of Ellwood City, and now of Mitchell Field, L. I. N. Y., piloted his great government plane over the local house-tops to the blue open spaces, where he looped and performed many stunts ending in a beautiful tail spin to the landing field near here, Saturday.

The motor of the plane hummed so loudly that many rushed from their homes, expecting at any moment the great mechanical bird would swoop down crushing them and their property. But nothing like this happened. The pilot was simply giving his machine a bit of experience, doing his daily dozen or so, and no doubt enjoying the disturbances his antics might be causing more likely not even thinking of what phase of it, for actually, this is all in a days work for airmen who are doing their bit in the United States army.

All unconcerned in the passenger seat was Captain Howell Jenkins, thoroughly enjoying the ride, loops, everything. He had gone to Pittsburgh to meet Lieut. Thomas and instead of driving the Jenkins car down as previously planned they came to Ellwood City in the plane.

After a short visit with his wife at her parent's home in Ewing Park, Lieut. Thomas accompanied by Captain Jenkins left for the flying field at Pittsburgh expecting to return here Sunday morning, but was unable to do so on account of a strong cross wind current. They made the trip to Pittsburgh from Ellwood in twenty minutes. Lieut. Thomas left yesterday for New York alone, arriving there in the afternoon safely.

He was taken before Squire Van Gorder of Ellwood City, held for court and is now reposing in the county jail awaiting the September term of court.

Loy Sumner will preach at this church next Sunday morning.

Ellwood Defeats Sanitary Team, 11-6

New Castle Aggregation Bows To Fast Tube City Team In Fast Game

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., July 14.—Ellwood City's Beaver County baseball nine defeated the Universal Sanitary Manufacturing company team of New Castle on Saturday at the local grounds by the score of 11 to 6 in an interesting tilt.

Twice the battle was brought to a deadlock. In the first frame both crews got off to a good start by getting three runs apiece. For the next two sessions neither aggregation crossed the plate but the contest was again tied as both clubs annexed a single score to bring the count to a 4-4 tie.

The Tubers had a healthy sixth inning as they bombarded Duncan with a shower of hits and garnered four tallies. New Castle was able to secure one run in the seventh but this was not quite enough as the Rushovic machine collected three. The visitors obtained another marker in the closing chapter.

Hamilton started on the mound for the locals but was replaced by Boyh toward the latter part of the contest. Duncan started at the firing line for the visitors but was sent to the showers and Coates injected in his position.

Irwin lead the hitting attack for Ellwood as he was credited with three hits. Latiano, Cowie and Burkwe close on his heels with two hits apiece. Jones, Shiek and H. Sumner starred for the New Castle team with two hits apiece. Jones also scored two runs. Sumner socked a home run and a triple.

Next week will find the local club pitted against another all star aggregation as they clash with the Cuban Red Sox of Havana, Cuba. The game will be played at the local grounds on Wednesday. This special attraction will get underway at 6:30.

A large crowd is expected to witness this contest. The Tubers will play Beaver on Thursday instead of Wednesday in order to make possible this superb treat.

Bobby Jones Wants Amateur Golf Title To Add To His List

Famous Atlanta Georgia Golfer Holder of Three Major Titles Wants Fourth

No Good Reason Right Now Why Jones Should Not Trim Best In Amateur Ranks

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 14.—In the cold, sane light of a new day, some thirty hours after the denouncement surrounding the close of the National Open Championship, there would seem to be nothing for it this morning but to admit that golf is likely to know no lasting competitive equality for at least five years, unless Bobby Jones retires out of sheer boredom. Golf was intended to make all men humble, but all it apparently has succeeded in doing is to make one man exalted.

At this belated hour Jones, the perennial champion, had left town and the scene of his greatest triumphs on Saturday. But this was about all he did leave. He took everything and everybody in his second consecutive open championship with his 287 for seventy two holes at Interlachen and the feeling now is that he will continue to do much the same until the game knows him no more.

Adds Another Pearl
The victory, made possible by a stunning 68 in the third round on Saturday morning while most and, in fact, nearly all of the professionals were cracking wide apart, simply added another pearl to the competitive necklace he is assembling this year. He won the British amateur at St. Andrews. He won the British open at Hoylake. Then he came back here and won the American open.

So the tendency is to concede him the fourth championship of the year, the National Amateur at Merion in September and I can see nothing illogical about the concession in question. In fact, if you don't concede it he is liable to go out and take it anyhow. So why be headstrong in the face of the inevitable?

Jones wants the four championships because the performance would savor of conquering the impossible and he has been doing this so long that it has become something of a fixed habit.

Anyhow, barring the unforeseen he probably will get what he wants this time since he now is greater than ever, while it is admitted that those who could take issue with him in amateur golf are becoming fewer and funnier, even as it is with the professionals.

Amateurs Not Strong
It is more than significant of Jones' monopoly here that only three amateurs—Jamieson in the 1928 British event, George Von Elm in the American final of the same year and Johnny Goodman last September—have been good enough or lucky even, as the case may be, to beat Jones.

The amateur field at that is stronger than ever today. It simply isn't strong enough to compete successfully against the supernatural Harrison Johnston, the current champion, is one of the few who has a real chance against Jones at any time he starts. But this chance always must be predicated upon the hope that Jones will not be at the pinnacle as he enters any given match and so will be merely a great golfer, instead of an unbeatable one.

It is this that also will give Tolley, Von Elm, Moe, Willing, Sweetser, Voigt, McCarthy, Perkins, Goodman and others that 1 to 2 chance against Jones at Merion. If it isn't so, I'm afraid this chance might become more like 1 to 10.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Bobby Jones captured the National open golf tournament at Interlachen club, Minneapolis, Saturday and he now has only to win the national amateur tournament to achieve the distinction of owning four major golf title in one year.

While Willie Davies and Black Bill are resting for their bout tonight at Braddock bowl, Mickey Solomon, local 150 pounder will be in training for a bout with Jack Wilson, Thursday night at Millvale.

The biggest pugilistic tilt of the week will be staged Thursday night in New York City when Sammy Mandell will defend his lightweight championship against Al Singer. Ernie Peters will substitute for Phil Tobias against Midget Wolgast in the semi-final as Phil has a bad hand.

By scoring a 12 to 1 victory over the Browns at St. Louis, the Philadelphia Athletics have taken first place in the American league. The Athletics had two big innings, the first in which they got five runs and third when they scored four. Simmons hit his twenty first home run.

The United States defeated Belgium in soccer, 3-0 at Montevideo, Uruguay, yesterday. It was the first match of the world's soccer football championship tournament under way. In another match France defeated Mexico four to one.

Helen Hicks captured the first championship event staged by the New York State Golf association at Rochester, N. Y. She defeated Maureen Orcutt 1 up in the 36 hole play.

The Pennsylvania state open golf tourney will get under way at the Allegheny Country Club today. Ed Dudley, Wilmington, Del., professional, will play in defense of his title.

Sunday Game In Boston Halted

Officials Stop Second Game Of Double Bill In Sixth Inning Under Sunday Law

TIGERS DEFEAT SENATORS 5-4

By COPELAND C. BURG
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, July 14.—To the accompaniment of one of the prettiest pitching duels witnessed this season, the Pittsburgh Pirates were glorying today in a shutout victory over the Brooklyn Robins. The score was 1 to 0 and more than one Ebbets field man, with palpitating heart, conceded the Bucs had won handily.

Larry French Pittsburgh Southpaw, sent the Robins legging it back to the dugout for nine innings during which he allowed but nine hits. Jumbo Jim Elliott, who went to the hill for the Robins, set the Bucs down with only four swats. Two of the Corsair's clouts, however, came at opportune moments and served to decide the contest.

Engle Tallies
Charley Engle stepped into one of Elliott's slants in the seventh and drove out a single. Engle romped around the third on Hemsley's single and Hemsley stole second a moment later. Mickey Finn made a fast pick-up of Paul Waner's scorching ground-er and threw Waner out at first while Engle was scoring the lone tally of the game.

When the six o'clock Sunday baseball law was put into effect yesterday in Boston the Braves were leading the Cubs 3 to 0 at the end of the eighth inning and the time was exactly 5:34 o'clock out in the ninth inning the Bruins scored four runs. Then came six o'clock. A cop blew a whistle, the officials went into a huddle and pretty soon Kiki Cuyler, who made a hit and stole a base, almost keeled over for it was announced Boston had grabbed it, 3 to 0. Everything scored after 5:34 was just for fun, the officials decided. In the first game the new law was not working and besides Seibold allowed the Cubs only seven hits, so Boston won without a whistle or anything, 2 to 1.

Tigers Beat Senators
Making it three out of four the Tigers defeated the Senators 5 to 4 and lowered Washington into second place. Vic Sorrell did some fair pitching and scored the winning run with a single.

Al Simmons popped his twenty first homer and the A's got 16 other bingle langles and humbled the Browns 12 to 1.

Terry and Ott each got four hits as the Giants knocked Benny Frey to the baths and bounced on the Reds to the melody of 9 to 15.

When Sherid weakened in the ninth, Ted Lyons, pinch hitting, poked a double. The Sox scored three runs and there was all manner of excitement, but the Yankees managed to stave off the rally and won 7 to 5.

Rain was charitable and ended the misery in the seventh inning Cleveland winning over the Red Sox 11 to 3.

The Cardinals and Phillies were idle.

The Polish A. A. of the City-County league has consented to play the Browns, formerly the Colored All Stars in the big benefit game at the National Radiator Field on Saturday July 19. The game is for the benefit of William Pannell and Old Bradley, two members of the Browns who were injured on July 4 in chasing a fly ball.

The game will start at 3:30 o'clock. A fine game is looked for, as both teams have strong material and the Polish boys are among the leaders in the City-County loop. The Browns are composed of former Colored All-Star players.

J. Colbert of the National Radiator company has donated the balls for the game. It is hoped that a goodly crowd will turn out for the game.

Sammy Mandell Incensed Over "Sold" Report

Lightweight Champion Denies He Has "Sold Out To Singer"—Wants To Win Bout

WILL NOT RETIRE IF HE IS WINNER

(International News Service) ORANBURG, N. Y., July 14.—Incensed at rumors that he has "sold out" to Al Singer, Sammy Mandell, lightweight champion of the world, today declared his anxiety and confidence to defeat his opponent on Thursday night had been augmented to the greatest pitch.

"These ridiculous reports," said Mandell, "have placed me in a difficult position. I can only disprove such accusations by my work in the ring, and I believe that those who sit at the ringside on Thursday night will realize during the first minute of fighting the stupidity and unfounded nature of these rumors."

Wants to Win. "I'd kill the man who approaches me on an errand of fixing a fight. My manager, Eddie Kane, would do the same. I have been in the ring 11 years and have engaged in over 170 professional bouts, yet the finer of suspicion has never touched me. I don't think I deserve such treatment now."

"The lightweight title to me represents the greatest possible achievement. I intend to keep the crown as long as I feel able to successfully defend it. I am not going to retire. If I defeat Singer I may remain at the head of the division for at least two more years."

A group of Mandell's friends from Chicago today set out with some $50,000 for the purpose of wagering on the lightweight champion at the purported odds of 8 to 5 in favor of Singer.

In his work in the training ring here Mandell has shown decided improvement in every phase of the game during the past week. Each session indicates that when he concludes work here tomorrow he will have achieved perfection in condition, boxing skill, wind, timing of punches and speed.

Rochester Coach Resigns His Post

Wayne O. Hauck, former the past several years head football and basketball coach at Rochester High school, has tendered his resignation and will go to West Point to assume the position of supervisor of training and athletic equipment at the Army school. Hauck was once a cadet at West Point.

He is a graduate of Pitt, and also attended Carnegie Tech and W. & J. and was coach at Parnassus High before taking up the reins at Rochester High where he has turned out many winning football and basketball teams. New Castle High will play Rochester High this year in football.

Spurns Promotion For Active Duty

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, July 14.—Herbert Deakne is the only colonel in the army who is being addressed as "general" by civilian friends and some of his fellow officers.

He is the only colonel on active duty who passed aside an opportunity to retire with the rank of brigadier-general and then ask to remain on duty as a colonel; receiving the lower salary of a colonel when he retires because of age in December, 1931.

Deakne was an assistant to the chief of army engineers and held the temporary rank of brigadier-general. His tour of duty just expired and he had the right to retire with that rank or revert back to his colonelcy. He chose the latter and will continue as a member of the board of army engineers.

Pirates Win From Dodgers

Two Well Placed Hits In Seventh Give Pirates Victory 1 To 0

BROOKLYN, N. Y., July 14.—Good pitching by Larry French and spectacular fielding by his teammates gave Pittsburgh a 1-0 victory over Brooklyn at Ebbets field yesterday afternoon. Elliott allowed the Pirates only four hits, while French was touched for nine, but of the four that the Pirates got two were well placed and served to decide the fracas. It was in the seventh that the Pittsburghers came through with the winning tally.

Elliott passed five to first, while Brame gave three free trips. The box score:

Sport Ritticisms

By BILL RITT

The reason for Bobby Jones' success, says a writer, is 50 per cent confidence. But it's 100 per cent golf.

The way those New York Giants are spraining ankles they soon won't have a leg to stand on.

According to reports all the Chicago White Sox need to be a success this season is more pitchers, more hitters and more people coming out to see them play.

Of the thousands of people in Yankee stadium to sass back to Babe Ruth had to pick out a fellow wearing blue serge. Not, not a cop. A lot worse, an umpire!

The Bambino talked himself into a three-days' rest something a lot of employees we know have been trying to do unsuccessfully for years.

It's still a little early, but any day now we expect to pick up some magazine and read: "How I Rose to Success," by Bobby Jones' Caddy.

Sammy Mandell says he trains only 10 days for any fight. That's his insurance against sleeping 10 seconds at any one time.

Spying On Sports

By WILLIAM RITT Central Press Sports Editor

The National League, graybeard of baseball circuits, is reverting to form again this season. Pitching ability is paramount. Hitting is secondary. Fielding is third.

The two prize examples of this are Philadelphia and Cincinnati.

The Phillies are so far ahead of the other clubs in the exact science of effectively merging horsehide and ash it isn't even funny.

And the Reds have the best defense in the league, a clock-work infield that is the bane of base runners.

However, just look at them. The Phillies, with a team batting average that persists in hanging around the astounding mark of .325, are tallenders and the Reds seem to be set on displacing the Quaker City crew in the cellar position, if that feat is possible.

With a bit better pitching the Phils and Reds could very well be in the race. As it is the Phils' tremendous batting power represented by such sluggers as Klein, O'Doul, Shierlock, Friberg and Whitney is going to waste through lack of effective hurling.

The same is true of the fine work of the Kelly-Ford-Durocher-Stripp infield combination of the Reds.

Meanwhile, the Cubs, fifth in batting and fifth in fielding, are in the thick of the first-place fight solely because of effective pitching. Brooklyn, sixth in fielding, is getting the best hurling in the circuit, backed up by sufficient batting power. You don't have to read very far to find where Brooklyn stands in the pennant race.

Harry Heilmann, Cincinnati's premier batsman, has still a good distance to go to achieve his heart's desire; the honor, or whatever you want to call it, of being the first man to lead both major leagues in batting.

The thought that it lay within his power to turn the trick prevented Harry from being too down-hearted when the Tigers let him slip out of the American league last winter and he was picked up by the struggling Reds for the current National league campaign.

Harry has been shooting around the .365 mark this season. That's a fine average, but in these days of tail and frequent hits it isn't good enough to win a championship.

Bobby Jones To Be Lionized By Atlanta Citizens

Atlanta Declares Legal Holiday As Bobby Jones Carries Home Three Titles

FAMOUS GOLFER IN NEED OF REST

(International News Service) ATLANTA, Ga., July 14.—Bobby Jones the victor is coming home today to an ovation fit for a conquering hero.

Jones' home town has seen fit to declare a legal holiday in order to bid the golf wizard welcome on his arrival here aboard the special car which brought him and his party from Minneapolis.

There will be a parade with cheering crowds. And there will be a reunion between Jones and his small son and daughter.

When the welcome is over the champion will take a rest before taking up his legal work again, he revealed in Chicago yesterday. Jones admitted to interviewers he was tired from the strain of tournaments and wants a rest.

Besides the cup he retained by winning the American open Saturday, Jones is bringing home the trophies he took in the British open and British amateur.

Al Singer Will Take Rest Today

Young Jewish Lightweight Hopes To Win Mandell's Crown Thursday Night

By HYPE IGONE I. N. S. Sports Writer.

DELAWARE WATER GAP, Pa., July 14.—Al Singer will not don the gloves today as had been contemplated but instead will take what his closest advisers say is a much needed rest.

George Engle, who was the manager of two world's champions, Harry Greb and Frank Klaus, strongly advised the day's letup. Engle is always Singer's chief second.

Engle was backed up in this by Benny Leonard who is keen on seeing the young Singer follow in his own footsteps to win the world's lightweight title from Sammy Mandell Thursday night.

Both Engle and Leonard declared that Singer had reached the high water mark of his training yesterday and that if he did not get a respite he would go stale, as sure as fate. Singer will go back to boxing on Tuesday. Today's work will consist of a short jog on the road, a round of shadow-boxing and one or two with the light bag.

Tomorrow will be Singer's last day of sparring. After he takes off the gloves he will relax and put in most of his time resting. He will do only light skipping about to keep his weight down to 136, where it has been for several days. He has had no trouble making it this time, but there are days coming for Littles when he never will be able to make it again.

Local Party Gets Large Fish Catch

Party Of Eight Local Fishermen Return With Big Catch In Canada

Fish Include Black Bass, Big Mouth Bass, Pickerel, Perch, And Pike

Eight New Castle men today were a big smile as a result of a two weeks' fishing trip in Canada. The local fishermen left New Castle on June 29 and returned here Sunday, with 275 pounds of several kinds of fish. The fish were captured in Delta Beverly lake, Canada.

Those who made the trip to Canada are Adolph Lang, James E. Thomas, Joe Wilkins, Albert Snyder, Fred Brundert, Charles Pearce, Herbert Snyder and Glenn Howard. The trip was made by automobile.

The different kinds of fish caught include black bass, big mouth bass, pike, pickerel, perch, salmon and several other kinds. The local "fish-catchers" stated that the three away about one bushel of fish. Lack of space to take the fish home caused the locals to throw the fish away.

Speaking to Adolph Lang, the writer was told that the secret in catching the fish was that they used about $16 worth of minnows. First the locals tried worms, bacon and several other foods in the hope of capturing some fish. Seeing that these foods failed the local party began to use minnows which proved successful. Three cents apiece was the price for each minnow.

Fish are not as plentiful as they were last year, the party stated. They claim the fish were biting better last year than this year.

Tonight the entire party is going to open the box containing the fish and divide them. Some of the fish weigh as high as eight and nine pounds. The bass weigh about five and six pounds.

The party reports having had a wonderful trip. The writer believes that this is the greatest "fish catch" made this year by any party.

Serums Fight 20 New Kinds Of Pneumonia

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 14.—Twenty new kinds of pneumonia have been discovered in the laboratories of the New York Department of Health to add to the three varieties already known. The result, according to the director of laboratories, Dr. William H. Park, is that new serums already have been prepared for many kinds of pneumonia which hitherto resisted treatment.

Experiments made by Miss Georgia Cooper, under Dr. Parker's direction, revealed that a fourth of all adults and more than half of all children suffering from pneumonia has the disease in an "unknown form." By patient research each of the 20 new forms was traced. Once known and isolated, the germs are used to inoculate horses and serums prepared.

Stocks Show Recovery In Early Trading Today

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, July 14.—Stocks were carried to new high levels on the current phase of the recovery drive, in the first half of today's session. Trading was on a broader scale indicating the return of the general outside public on a more or less limited scale, with most of the activity centered in the old line speculative leaders.

U. S. Steel reached 161½ for a gain of more than a point. Westinghouse stepped up 1½ points to 141½; American Can up 1½ to 124½; and Vanadium up almost 2 points to 87½.

The widely heralded move in Radio failed to materialize, but Radio Keith, bounded up to 32½ for an advance of 2½ points on particularly heavy turnover. Allied Chemical, case thrashing, Eastman Kodak, and Worthington Pump also were sharply higher.

Standard Oil of New Jersey featured a more buoyant oil list.

Aggressive activity continued to bring higher prices to electric power and light, National Power, Starlight Gas, and American and Foreign power.

Rails and motors ruled firm. Copper turned irregular.

Cotton showed rallying tendencies after initial weakness, while wheat held steady.

on the national railways near Rosillo recently.

Despite frantic "toots" from the train whistle, the burro declined to leave the right of way as the train roared toward the animal. When it struck the animal, the train was derailed, killing the fireman and seriously injuring the engineer. The burro was killed.

That noise you heard during the rain Sunday evening was merely the tomatoes applauding the work of the rain maker. After about one month of weather that was drier than a prohibition convention, J. Pluvius got around to the place where he realized the need of succotash farms. Most of the hay was in, while the corn would have been out real soon if it hadn't rained.

Now that Bobby Jones has won the national open to keep company with his British open and the British amateur, let's hope he wins the national amateur here and then retires from open competition. The boy ought to run for the United States Senate from Georgia or for mayor of Atlanta or something. The last few years have been tough on the pro players with Jones the amateur entered.

The national open is worth $50,000 to a pro, while it means nothing to Jones but the honor and a cup. As a simon pure amateur he cannot accept any money for his golf playing, and the current quotations on cups is nothing like $50,000 per dozen.

One of the uncertain things about driving the Wampum road on a night like last night is the bridge over the Mahoning river. It is supposed to be a two-way bridge and nearly is, but don't get too far from the edge if you want to keep yourself together. Every time I drive over it I think of Ichabod Crane and the Headless Horseman, clattering over the plank bridge mentioned in "Sleepy Hollow".

Mark off Labor Day for a trip to Butler. Every five years Troop D of the state police gets the rodeo for the Butler fair grounds and this is the year. The men stationed in New Castle are Troop D men and it is a courtesy to them to get tickets for the affair. Aside from that you will see horsemanship that not even the rodeo at Cheyenne, Wyo., can beat. There ought to be 400 or 500 from New Castle go over to the rodeo, and if you think you haven't had your money's worth when it is over, see Jack Gondell.
